SCARRED VICTOR OF MONTEVIDEO BATTLE IS WELCOMED HOME

First Lord of Admiralty Leads Party Paying Tribute to H.M.S. Exeter for Stirring Victory Over Graf Spee—Royal Navy Offers To Convoy Any Craft

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 15 (CP).—A war-scarred victor of the Battle of Montevideo sailed proudly into this historic port today to be welcomed by a cheering crowd and the First Lord of the Admiralty, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill. She was H.M.S. Exeter, one of three cruisers which defeated the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in one of the big sea battles of the war.

A few hours after the 8,390-ton warship triumphantly dropped anchor, an authoritative spokesman said that Britain has offered to become the guardian of all the world's shipping as an answer to German warnings to neutral nations.

He said that navy convoys are open to any vessel, including United States craft, which passes through the Allied contraband control, regardless of whether the cargo is destined for Britain.

HAPPY HOMECOMING

The arrival of the Exeter was a happy homecoming for members of the ship's crew, who were called back to duty in August only three days after their first leave in England had begun, following a duty tour of nearly three years.

Besides Mr. Churchill, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, First Sea Lord, and Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, were on hand to pay tribute.

The First Lord of the Admiralty was puffing his ever-present cigar and wearing a yachting cap and double-breasted blue jacket of naval cut as he went aboard to congratulate the officers and men. The band played "Rule Britannia."

Despite a coat of new paint, scars from the German raider's shells were still visible on the proud warship.

In his speech of welcome to the officers and men of the ship which bore the brunt of the Admiral Graf Spee's fire and suffered the heaviest casualties, Mr. Churchill said:

WILL EXTEND EVACUATION

British Cabinet Convinced Of Desirability of Dispersing Children

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—The Government's plans to extend the evacuation of children to safety areas in case serious bombing raids take place were outlined in the House of Commons today by the Minister of Health, Walter Elliot.

The House of Lords heard Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, reject a Labor proposal that the House hold a secret session to discuss the war effort. The peers adopted on second reading the cotton industry bill which sets up a central board to promote export sales of British cotton.

INCREASING ALLOWANCE

The Health Minister said circulars were sent today to local authorities in England, Scotland and Wales to draw up lists of householders who would shelter additional children if the need arose. The Government has decided to increase the billeting allowance to 10 shillings, sixpence a week ($2.35) for evacuated children who have attained the age of fourteen.

"The Government have the question of evacuation under careful consideration," the minister told the House. "They remain convinced of the desirability of dispersal of children from evacuation areas.

"Plans have therefore been prepared with the object of retaining in the reception areas as many as possible of the 400,000 children who are still there for further large-scale evacuation to take place if air raids develop on a scale involving serious and continuous bombing . . ."

In the House of Lords Lord Ponsonby, Labor, charged the Govern-

DR. D. B. FINN IS NAMED TO POST

Former Research Worker Appointed Deputy Minister Of Fisheries at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP). — Dr. Donovan Bartley Finn, chairman of the recently-created Salt Fish Board, today was appointed deputy minister of fisheries. He succeeds W. J. Found, who retired on superannuation a year ago.

The new deputy minister was born in Hendon, England, in 1900, but came to Canada in his youth and completed his studies at the University of Manitoba, where he took his degree as bachelor of science in 1924. He took post-graduate studies in Cambridge, England, some years later and obtained the degree of doctor of philosophy.

Dr. Finn served on the Fisheries Research Board of Canada for three years, then joined British Columbia Packers, Limited, Vancouver, to organize their scientific department.

AT PRINCE RUPERT STATION

Following his post-graduate studies, Dr. Finn returned to the Government service in 1932 as director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station. He was transferred to the Atlantic station at Halifax in 1934 and remained there until his appointment to the Salt Fish Board last July.

Dr. Finn is a fellow of the Canadian Institute of Chemistry. At present he is in Haiti investigating the possibilities of wider markets for Canadian fish and fish products.

Inaugurates New Service by Air

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 (CP).—On an inaugural passenger service flight, a Trans-Canada Airlines plane arrived tonight at St. Hubert Airport from Moncton, N.B. The flight marked extension of T-C-A's passenger service between the Pacific Coast and Montreal to New Brunswick.

A series of mail and experimental flights preceded the introduction of regular passenger flying on the Maritime route.

Rudderless Freighter Is In Distress

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 15 (AP).—The Mexican freighter, Nando, Jr., operating between San Diego and Mazatlan, lost its rudder at sea about 360 miles south of here tonight, the coast guard radio reported after intercepting distress messages from the vessel.

The tanker Emedio answered the Nando's SOS and was reported standing by. The weather was fair and the Nando was reported "lying to" safely. The Emedio reported it would take the 160-foot freighter in tow at sunrise.

Hundreds Die in New Cold Wave Gripping Europe

Blizzards Cut Off Balkan Communications—Budapest Has Lowest Temperature for Sixty Years—Germany Hit Severe Blow by Freezing Over of Danube—Floods in Serbia

PARIS, Feb. 15 (AP).—A new cold wave extending from the Balkans to Scandinavia gripped Europe today, taking hundreds of lives in the Southeast, slowing military action and bringing fresh suffering to civilian populations already hard hit by the bitterest Winter in years.

In the Balkans communications were disrupted by fresh blizzards which swept tails of war and defence preparations into the background.

Hardest hit was Hungary, where 14,000 civil workers, aided by tens of thousands of soldiers, were called out to shovel waist-high snow from streets and highways.

WOLVES IN HAMLETS

After a twelve-hour respite, Bulgaria and Rumania were also engulfed by new snowstorms. Wolves, driven from cover by hunger, invaded many Yugoslav and Bulgarian mountain hamlets.

Budapest experienced the bitterest cold in sixty years, twenty-eight degrees below zero. A shortage of coal, milk and other commodities drove thousands from great apartment buildings in the suburbs to plough through snowdrifts to seek refuge in city hotels.

Communications between Germany and the Balkan countries were seriously impaired, and shipments of wheat, oil and other supplies to the Reich were halted.

TWO SENATORS ARE APPOINTED

Lieut.-Col. J. J. Duffus and W. J. Hushion to Fill Remaining Seats

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP).—Appointment of Lieut.-Col. J. J. Duffus, of Peterborough, Ont., and W. J. Hushion, of Montreal, to the two remaining vacancies in the Senate, was announced today from the office of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Both new Senators were members of the Parliament which was dissolved on January 25. Mr. Duffus represented Peterborough and Mr. Hushion represented Montreal-St. Ann's.

Mr. Duffus was first elected to the House of Commons in 1935. He was a candidate in 1926 and 1930, but was defeated on both occasions.

Mr. Hushion won a by-election in St. Ann's in 1924, was defeated in the general election of 1930, and returned to Parliament in 1935.

These appointments bring the Senate to full strength for the first time in several years. The standing now is fifty-one Conservatives and forty-five Liberals.

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion Will Address Meeting On Tuesday in City

National Conservative Leader Resuming Campaign With Flying Visit to Pacific Coast—To Speak In Victoria and Vancouver on the Same Day

HON. Dr. Robert J. Manion, national Conservative leader, will address his first British Columbia audience in the present election campaign in a public meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on Tuesday, commencing at 2 p.m., it was announced yesterday by W. H. M. Haldane, president of the Victoria Conservative Association.

On a flying visit to the Pacific Coast, Dr. Manion will speak in the afternoon at Victoria and in Vancouver that night, covering the distance by air between meetings. The nominating convention has been advanced to Monday, and will be held at 8 p.m. at the Crystal Garden on the day before Dr. Manion's arrival.

Mr. Haldane explained that due to the short time available for his present tour of the West, Dr. Manion was forced to double his speaking engagements, Victoria taking the afternoon meeting when it was offered. All other arrangements have been canceled in favor of the new schedule. The shift in times meant a change of premises available, leading to the selection of the Chamber of Commerce for Dr. Manion's meeting.

CONVENTION ADVANCED

On Monday evening at the Crystal Garden, Conservatives of the Victoria Federal riding will select a candidate to carry the party's colors here in the general election. The nominating convention will commence promptly at 8 o'clock, with more than 300 ward delegates in attendance. It is not known whether R. L. Maitland, K.C., M.P.P., or T. A. Love, provincial president, will be

CHINESE CLAIM NEW SUCCESSES

Observers Believe Force of Japanese Invasion Spent Short of Goal

SHANGHAI, Feb. 15 (AP).—China's defenders reported today they were forcing the Japanese army to retreat in campaigns at opposite ends of their far-flung country, while foreign military observers expressed belief the Japanese invasion had spent its force short of its goal.

Chinese officials said that Japanese forces in Kwangsi Province, South China, were being driven southward over the path of their advance of the past two weeks, with the Chinese vanguard now only fourteen miles north of Nanning, main Japanese base for this area.

IN INNER MONGOLIA

Thirteen hundred miles to the north, in Inner Mongolia, the Chinese said they had recaptured the town of Wuyuan, forcing the Japanese to stage a general retreat southward toward Paotow, the railhead base of the Japanese campaign in Suiyuan Province.

The Japanese withdrew so hurriedly here, it was said, that they suffered heavy casualties and abandoned numerous supply trucks.

Japanese military officials denied both Chinese victory claims, claiming they simply were withdrawing to their respective bases, Nanning and Paotow, after highly successful expeditions in which Chinese concentrations were scattered with heavy Chinese losses.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Feb. 15 (By Cable).—The battle of the Karelian Isthmus, which has now lasted a fortnight, continues with the Russian attackers losing men at a terrible rate.

They have penetrated the Finnish defences at many points, but The Times correspondents in Finland say the main positions are still intact. The Finns, however, must have help from abroad if they are to maintain indefinitely their heroic resistance.

Great Britain is sending volunteers and Hungarians are passing through London to fight on the Finnish fronts. So fierce is the fighting on the Karelian Isthmus, with the Soviet losses running into thousands, that it can only mean that the Soviet leaders are determined to capture or turn the Mannerheim positions at any cost.

But, says the Helsingfors representative of The Times, "if substantial aid comes today or tomorrow, both the battle and the war may be regarded as won by the Finns."

On the fronts farther north, where the fighting has also been fierce, especially around Kuhmo in mid-Finland, 2,000 Russians have been killed.

The Finns are not attempting to force a decision here, but are cutting off Soviet supplies and leaving the snowstorms to dispose of their enemy.

Finnish aircraft are now becoming formidable enough to frighten off Russian attacks. If the Finns receive enough fighter machines from abroad they may yet obtain superiority in the air.

German bankers and businessmen now visiting Holland are conducting extensive propaganda for peace.

They are asking neutral businessmen to visit Berlin, and they openly say the present state of affairs is not war; that the Allies will never sacrifice their armies in a vain attempt to break the Siegfried Line; that the British blockade can never succeed, and that peace is the natural and only issue.

They also hint that Berlin will take full advantage of Sumner Welles' forthcoming visit to carry a peace drive to Washington.

Their one fear is that Hitler may start a war by ordering a large-scale air offensive which they believe would bring terrible reprisals.

So frequent is sabotage along the railway bringing a certain amount of Russian supplies from Odessa to Lwow and Breslau, that the Czech Government has been ordered to provide troops to guard the section of it running through Moravia.

Dealing editorially with the Government's decision to allow volunteers to be recruited for Finland, The Times says the Finns have few reserves to permit of front-line troops resting occasionally. If, however, they can maintain their positions for a few more weeks, then the heavy snow that normally falls in March will help them; so will the seasonal thaw in April.

May, however, will be a critical month, and by then Finland will need all the volunteers she can obtain.

Fish Probe May Be Ended Today

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP).—The Royal Commission which is investigating certain phases of the fishing industry in British Columbia is expected to be concluded some time tomorrow.

At the hearing here today J. M. Coady, commissioner's counsel, announced he will put his last witness on the stand on Friday.

SUBMARINE GOES DOWN IN FLAMES

Crew of Tanker See U-Boat Explode When Preparing to Torpedo Their Ship

OSLO, Feb. 15 (AP).—The Norwegian press today carried dramatic accounts in which seamen of a Norwegian tanker told of seeing a German submarine explode while preparing to torpedo their vessel. They said the submarine "exploded and disappeared in flames," presumably from an explosion inside, from ramming a submerged mine or, according to one theory, from a "miraculous hit" from what appeared to be a British destroyer in the distance.

The incident was said to have occurred on Monday after the tanker, en route from the United States to Bergen picked up the crew of the torpedoed Norwegian ship Snestad, 4,114 tons.

The submarine hove into sight, it was stated, and ordered the rescued crew and the crew of the tanker to take to their boats—only to explode almost immediately.

FINNS REGAIN POSITIONS LOST IN GREAT RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE

Two Soviet Divisions Thrown Back After Murderous Screen of Artillery Fire Aided Reds' Advance Over Carpet of Dead for Whole Breadth of Mannerheim Line

Finns Say They Are Holding Fast to All Vital Positions

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP).—A Reuter's News Agency dispatch from Helsingfors reported early today that the Finns had recaptured a number of their forward positions on the Mannerheim Line and thrown back two Soviet Russian divisions in the Taipale sector. It said lack of fresh reserves had given rise to anxiety, however.

A Reuter's dispatch last night said the Finns had withdrawn from first line positions at a number of points in the Summa sector, also on the Karelian Isthmus.

It quoted a Finnish artillery officer on leave as saying Russian artillery was so intense that Finnish casualties were mounting. The dispatch said the officer estimated that in a brief period 2,000 shells had fallen around his battery alone.

GREATEST ADVANCE

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (AP).—The greatest advance yet made in its fifteen-day-old offensive to knock out the Mannerheim Line was reported today by the Red Army.

Fifty-three "defensive fortifications," the largest number yet reported seized by the Russians in a single day's operations, were occupied in yesterday's fighting, the regular military communique asserted, and the Finns are being pushed back toward Kamara, four miles to the rear and to the east of Summa, scene of the war's greatest battles.

"The enemy is retreating to the rear, abandoning arms and war materials and suffering grave losses," said the communique.

DRIVING TO EAST

The approach to Kamara indicated an attempt was being made to flank the Summa defences by driving to the east.

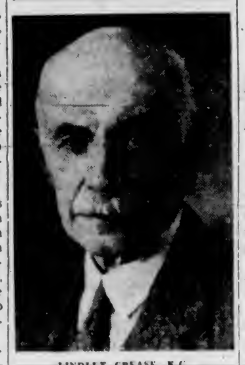

The fifty-three defensive positions captured, the Russians said, included twenty-one iron and concrete artillery forts and brought to 153 the number of fortifications claimed by the Russians to have been taken in their offensive.

The communique said Soviet troops were approaching the station of Kamara.

Kamara is four miles north of

LINDLEY CREASE, K.C.
Of the law firm of Crease & Crease, who died at his home here last night following a long illness.

DEATH TAKES CITY LAWYER

Lindley Crease, K.C., Succumbs to Long Illness At Home Here

Lindley Crease, K.C., for many years closely identified with the legal, church and political life of Victoria, died at his home "Pentrelew," 1201 Fort Street, last night, following a lengthy illness.

Born at New Westminster, B.C., March 13, 1867, the son of Hon. Sir Henry Pering Pellew Crease, a justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, and Lady Sarah (Lindley) Crease, he was educated at Halleybury, England, and was a student at law under the late Mr. Justice Drake. He was called to the British Columbia bar in 1890, and subsequently became the senior member of the firm of Crease & Crease, barristers of this city.

IN CHURCH WORK

For a number of years he was prominent in Anglican Church circles and held the post of chancellor of the Anglican Diocese of this province and assessor for the Provincial synod, in which he took an active part. He was a bencher of the Law Society of British Columbia, a former president of the Victoria Conservative Association, and one-time vice-president of the provincial organization.

Mr. Crease was interested in the work of the League of Nations and was president of the Vancouver Island branch of the League in Canada. He was a member of the Victoria Canadian Club and once its president. He also held membership in the Native Sons of British Columbia, the Alpine Club of Canada, Union Club and Victoria Golf Club, and was a member of the Masonic Order.

LOVER OF DOGS

Mr. Crease was a lover of the out-of-doors and his leisure hours were occupied by sketching and painting and these accomplishments were recognized as being beyond the amateur in effort. He was also a keen admirer of dogs. They were his companions on many of his hiking tours which he often illustrated with sketches of the countryside and the sea.

He is survived by two sisters, the Misses Susan and Josephine, and one brother, Arthur D. Crease, barrister, of the firm of Crease & Crease, Victoria.

Battle for The Kilt Is Continuing

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—The "battle for the kilt" which the men of Scotland have been waging on the home front ever since the War Office banned its wear as impractical in modern warfare tonight neared a critical stage.

Representatives of Highland societies went into conference at the House of Commons this evening with Scottish members of the House. To-morrow they will carry their case to the War Office itself.

The deputation demanded that the kilt be not only restored to Highland regiments but be worn on all occasions, and right into battle.

HELP GOING TO FINLAND

Steadily Mounting Stream of British Munitions on Way —Many Volunteer

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—Thousands of men and women trooped into the Finnish Legation today to volunteer for the Finnish army, while a Government spokesman declared supplies of British arms and ammunition to be used on the Karelian Front are leaving this country in a steadily mounting stream.

Indicative of the popular sympathy for the Finnish defence against the Russian invasion, scores of Canadian and British troops "signed up" along with civilians from all parts of the country and of every imaginable profession and trade.

AN ENCOURAGING GESTURE

But that was no more than a gesture for the men in khaki because, although there is nothing to stop them from filling out the forms, they are ineligible to join another army without permission of either the Canadian or British Governments.

Official sources insisted there is no chance at present that Canadian and British troops will be able to volunteer for Finland.

The Government's announcement that it is planning a special organization to expedite permits necessary for the volunteers to leave the country put the enlistment programme into high gear.

Outside the Finnish Legation were

Storm and Gale in Eastern U.S. Claims Lives of Sixty-Five

Shipping and Highway Traffic Disrupted Over Wide Area—Snow Piles Up in Gigantic Drifts—Several Ships in Distress

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP).—At least sixty-five persons perished as a result of a howling nor'easter that left a wide section of the United States—from Maine to Washington and westward to Ohio—struggling to restore snowbound transportation on land, sea and in the air.

Howling out to sea the storm and gale disabled the Boston trawler Flow, which reported tonight she was "leaking badly" and in need of assistance about 300 miles east of Cape Sable, N.S.

As the vessel filled, with buckets being pressed into service when the water began to gain on the pumps, a sister trawler, the Crest, stood by and the coast guard cutter Harriet Lane, 300 miles away, bucked mountainous seas in an effort to reach the disabled Flow.

New England, receiving the full force of the storm on Wednesday night just before it moved out to sea, counted a toll of nineteen dead.

Twenty-one died in New York State, eight of them in New York City; eleven in Pennsylvania and fourteen in New Jersey.

Accompanied by a gale which in at least one instance reached eighty miles an hour, the snow piled up in gigantic drifts, which buried stalled automobiles, blocked rail and bus

MALAY STATES MAKE FINE GIFT

New Contribution Is Announced of £1,000,000 to Britain's War Chest

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—A new gift to Great Britain's war chest by the Federated Malay States this time for £1,000,000 (about $4,000,000) —was announced tonight.

The native rulers of these states—Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang—made a collective donation of nearly £500,000 to the British Government nine months ago, and have individually given large amounts since the war began.

A resolution embodying their desire to make the new contribution will be presented to the Federal Council at its next meeting February 20.

Sir Shenton Thomas, high commissioner for the Malay States, recently said none of these states wishes to profit by the increased demand for their products—especially rubber and tin—created by the war and that they wished to relieve as far as possible the heavy burden of taxation borne by Britons.

In 1914 the Federated Malay States presented the battle cruiser Malaya to the Royal Navy. It is still in commission. Later in the last war they gave £2,000,000 to improve the Singapore naval base. In 1937 they gave £410,000 to buy military aircraft. All these gifts were in addition to their regular expenditures for local defence.

Hits Fence But Remains Quite Cool

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—Drama comes swiftly in the air and flyers here are grinning about the story of a young Canadian pilot who was cool and calm when his thrill came.

A signals officer was talking to a Royal Air Force squadron taking off on patrol when he heard a voice say quietly: "I am about to hit the fence."

The officer replied: "Did you say you were about to hit the fence?"

Back came the answer instantly: "I did. I have now hit the fence."

The young Canuck's engine had "cut out" soon after he had taken off. The pilot was not injured and soon caught up to his squadron in another plane.

SCURRAH'S

Educational Clause In Wardens' Report Deleted by Council

Fire Department Governing Committee Unsuccessfully Proposes Firemen Receive Two Years' High School Education—Mayor Opposes

A MOTION of the fire wardens that fire department applicants be required to have completed second year high school studies was emphatically defeated after considerable debate at a City Council meeting yesterday afternoon.

Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the fire wardens, stated that 800 applications for positions were on file, with the possibility of twenty vacancies during the next ten years.

He pointed out some North American cities appointed college graduates to their fire departments, and that a knowledge of hydraulics and chemistry gained through a high school education would be particularly valuable in fire prevention work.

In taking exception to the fire wardens' motion, Alderman W. H. Davies explained that many bright boys had to leave school for various reasons.

OFFERS OPINION

Alderman Edward Willlams thought the wardens were attempting to legislate against youth of the city. He added the question of education qualifications should be left to wardens and the fire chief.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden was in favor of the motion. He reminded the council that taxpayers were paying for young people to secure good educations.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan said that some $500,000 was spent annually to educate young people here. He was in favor of the motion. He understood that 50 per cent of the boys attending high school were wholly or partly self-supporting.

Although Alderman S. H. Okell believed it was preferable that a fireman possessed a good education, he did not favor the motion.

Mayor Andrew McGavin registered his objection to the motion. He was sure that a fireman could perform his duties with efficiency even though he had not completed two years' high school education. He could not see what such an education had to do with handling a hose, driving a truck, scaling walls or inspecting premises for fire hazards.

CREATES HARDSHIP

He realized that many parents could not afford to send their children to high school, and saw no reason why they should be legislated against. He also thought it a hardship and an injustice that a candidate for the fire department was forced to go on trial for a month before his application could be considered.

Alderman John A. Worthington was sure that a high school education would be of great advantage to firemen engaged in fire prevention work.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar noted that many worthy young men would be eliminated as future firemen by the proposed motion.

Alderman Okell moved that the motion be handed back to the fire wardens for further consideration. Alderman Davies successfully moved an amendment that the two-year high school clause be forthwith struck out of the fire wardens' report.

NEW QUALIFICATIONS

The council then agreed that future firemen must be between 5 feet 9 inches and 6 feet 1 inch in height, not less than 160 pounds in weight and between twenty-one and twenty-seven years of age. Alderman Worthington suggested that the qualifications also set forth that a thorough physical examination be required.

In dealing with other general business, the council endorsed recommendations of the lands committee that eleven lots in various parts of the city be sold for a total of $2,360. Tenders to demolish an old house in the 400 block on Gorge Road were referred to the committee.

Alderman Morgan called attention to committee chairmen that estimates had not been received from the police, building inspector, wiring, lands, parks, health, public works and waterworks departments. At a previous meeting, department heads were ordered to have their estimates in the hands of committee chairmen not later than Thursday.

TO PROBE PRICES

After reading a statement of the Public Utilities Commission of December 29 that an increase in the price of coal applied only to the Northfield Mine, Alderman Okell declared that the price of Nanaimo-Wellington coal had later been increased $1 per ton. He thought the matter should be clarified. The business and trade development committee was asked to investigate and report to the council.

Alderman Worthington asked the public works committee to investigate improvement of the approach to the W.C.T.U. Home on Ida Street at a cost of $60.

Further discussion on plans to institute half, one and two-hour parking in various parts of the business district was postponed until the next meeting.

Alderman Morgan stated he had not yet received a report from Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, on the possibility of Federal or Provincial Government assistance for erection of an arena.

SUGGEST DELAY

A letter from the Oak Bay Council suggesting that activities of an inter-municipal committee drafting a transportation franchise be held in abeyance was referred to the public utilities committee. A complaint from the same source in regard to alleged fire hazards at the Willows Park was turned over to the British Columbia Agricultural Association executive for a report.

Payment of $59.25 membership dues to the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities was authorized.

The finance committee and city solicitor were asked to report on a request from the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce that a tag day be held for the Victoria Girls' Drill Team.

A request for parking space outside the Courthouse was referred to the committee of the whole. Mayor McGavin was asked to set a date at which the Retail Merchants' executive of the Chamber of Commerce could give its views on the parking question.

OFFER OBJECTION

The committee of the whole will also consider objections of the Victoria Automobile Club to parallel parking, and a petition against imposition of an hour parking limit on certain streets now free of regulations. Mayor McGavin commented that a petition bearing no addresses with names should not be recognized.

It was decided to grant an audience to members of the Burnside Parent-Teacher Association who wish to make a plea for a school auditorium.

Data on school board ordinary estimates of $509,183.20, receipts of $107,982.37 and extraordinary estimates of $8,200 for the current year were handed to the city comptroller and solicitor for a report.

A report of the city electrician showed that a new traffic control signal and flashing caution light would cost $607.15. The report was referred to the committee of the whole.

CALL FOR TENDERS

Authority was given the finance committee to purchase a cheque writer for $115. The city comptroller was given power to call for tenders for fire, automobile and public liability insurance on city property.

It was agreed that the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee be asked to take over Gorge Park for the present year.

On recommendation of the parks committee, tenders for lawn mowers, tires, parts, grass catchers, hose and grass seed totaling $599.93 were accepted.

On motion of the public works committee, it was agreed to paint pedestrian lanes at Douglas and Broughton Streets. It was decided to remove an old oak tree on Leighton Road, provided the owner of property bordering the tree paid half the cost.

A prohibited parking area opposite the entrance to the city's Garbally Road yard was ordered.

Authority was given the city engineer to construct a 282-foot road south of Oak Shade Lane and parallel to Richmond Avenue at a cost of $257.

Thursday Named Convention Date Of Liberal Party

ORIGINALLY scheduled for Wednesday night last, and immediately postponed upon announcement of the death of Lord Tweedsmuir, the Victoria Liberal Association's nominating convention for the general election will be held next Thursday night, at 8 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, it was announced yesterday. A total of 285 delegates will attend the convention, and unanimous nomination of R. W. Mayhew, Victoria Member of the last Parliament, is expected to be the result.

Actors Applaud Their Audience

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 (AP).—For their fortitude in braving one of the century's worst blizzards, actors applauded a small but determined audience last night. To the 100 men and women who had bucked snowdrifts and lashing winds to attend the performance, Ted Shawn, dancer, said in a curtain speech: "Audiences like you are courageous and receptive." Then he and the entire cast applauded.

Conservatives of Vancouver South Riding Make Choice Of Standard-Bearer

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP). — A Conservative nominating convention last night chose Howard Green to contest the Vancouver-South seat in the March Federal election. Mr. Green was member of Parliament for the riding before the dissolution of Parliament last month.

Mr. Green told the meeting he was in favor of national unemployment insurance and said that one point in his platform would be to advocate "proper" treatment of soldiers and their dependents. Another would be a proposal that all men who were turned down at recruiting stations because they were not fit should be enlisted for home defence.

MAYOR McGAVIN FAVORS APPEAL

Financial Drive of Canadian Legion Gets Support of Chief Magistrate

The Canadian Legion war services fund appeal continues to rise steadily towards the local objective of $10,000, contributions received at campaign headquarters at 642 Johnson Street yesterday bringing the total to date to $6,760.

With the closing day of the drive coming at the end of next week, officials feel well satisfied with the public response, they said again yesterday. They report that men now in the services in and around Victoria are taking an interest in what the Legion is undertaking to do on their behalf. Some of the local branches are already dealing with cases relative to allowances and matters of a like nature, it was said.

Further endorsement of the war services work of the Legion, which is the object of the nation-wide financial appeal, came yesterday from Mayor Andrew McGavin, who forwarded the following letter:

ENDORSES APPEAL

"I am indeed glad to see that the veterans of the last Great War are taking such an interest in the welfare of the men of Canada's present Active Service Force.

"If anyone should know the needs of the troops it is the veteran, and I thoroughly endorse the campaign of the Canadian Legion to raise funds to enable them to provide educational and social services for the benefit of the Active Service Force, and I wish them every success in their efforts."

A continued interest in the success of the appeal is being shown by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who contributed substantially to the fund earlier in the week, officials said, as they recorded their appreciation yesterday of his inquiries as to how the campaign was proceeding.

STORM IN EAST CLAIMING LIVES

RURAL ROADS BLOCKED

In Pennsylvania, country roads were blocked by drifts, and as highway workers struggled to clear them, a new light snow was predicted.

One Massachusetts fishing vessel, the Palmers Island, of New Bedford, was known to have been disabled and remained unreported since the height of the storm. As coast guards continued their search, fears were held for the safety of her crew of five, under Captain Dan A. Casey.

Several other calls for assistance from distressed craft were answered successfully by the coast guard.

Clogged streets represented an acute fire hazard. In New Jersey, three homes burned while firemen were helpless to bring up apparatus. There were two such instances in Massachusetts.

SNOW REMOVAL COSTLY

Many thousands of men found temporary employment clearing streets, augmenting regular highway forces, which were out at full strength. In Boston alone, cost of snow removal was placed at $300,000.

Schools in most of the snowbound region were closed, but at Hopedale, Mass., a teacher and twenty-five pupils reported on skis and snowshoes.

With Boston's transportation system literally paralyzed, Governor Leverett Saltonstall appealed to all those not having urgent business to remain at home until the emergency passed. Hundreds of automobiles were buried in snow-clogged city streets, many commuters were unable to reach their homes or to come to their city offices, and the city's big airport was so deep in drifts, officials said flying probably would be suspended until Monday.

FINNS RECAPTURE LOST POSITIONS

Summa, in the Karelian Isthmus, focal point of the most serious fighting of the war, and is located on the Viipuri-Leningrad Railway.

The station is about fifteen miles from Viborg (Viipuri).

Six enemy airplanes were brought down in yesterday's war in the air, the Russian communique said.

CARPET OF DEAD

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 15 (AP).—Russia's great offensive rumbled tonight over a literal carpet of its own dead the entire breadth of the Mannerheim Line, behind a murderous screen of artillery fire that dumped 20,000 shells into the battered Finnish positions in a single hour.

Again the Finns said they were holding fast to all vital positions and inflicting terrible losses upon the seemingly inexhaustible ranks of their attackers; again they insisted that their own losses were "phenomenally low." Nevertheless, the Helsingfors Government today called to the colors the second class of reserves in two days. Today's call was for the class of 1896—yesterday's for that of 1897. The men affected are from forty-two to forty-four years old.

Tonight's communique of the High Command mentioned 4,000 Russians killed yesterday on various fronts, exclusive of the Summa sector, where the heaviest fighting has occurred and the greatest losses registered.

HEAVILY BOMBED

Russian bombers drove Helsingfors' populace to air raid shelters for an hour in the afternoon, but saved their bombs for the town of Riihimaki, twenty miles to the north of the capital, which was attacked heavily.

In its report of yesterday's activity the High Command said the Russians attacked fruitlessly on land and ice across the isthmus from the frozen fringe of the coast of the Gulf of Finland, through the Summa sector and the corridor between Lake Muolo and the Vouksi River, to the Taipale River, on the northeast flank of the Mannerheim Line.

Elsewhere, it was announced, attacks were repulsed northeast of Lake Ladoga and at Kuhmo, on the eastern front, where "enemy losses amounted to more than 500 killed." The Finns said a supply column of about 100 motor vehicles was destroyed at one place.

AIR FORCE ACTIVE

The Finnish Air Force was active yesterday both in fighting against invading warplanes and in bombing Russian troop concentrations and supply bases.

The High Command charged that Russian pursuit planes "machine-gunned people trying to extinguish the flames" started by Russian bombers.

It asserted that sixteen Russian planes were shot down and that "in addition Russian flyers above one sector of the front were observed fighting among themselves, during which one of their bombers fell on our side of the lines."

An unofficial report said the Finns had silenced a long-range gun which, for weeks had been shelling Viipuri, twenty miles from Summa, intermittently.

TO GIVE CONCERT

LANGFORD, Feb. 15.—A concert will be given by the Esquimalt Dramatic Club, under the auspices of the Prince Edward Branch, No. 91, Canadian Legion, in the Legion Hall, Langford, on Friday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock. An entirely new programme has been prepared.

ment had informed the press of its decision before Lord Halifax declined the request for a secret session.

Lord Noel-Buxton, Labor, supported Lord Ponsonby, and said that if secret sessions had proved useful during the Great War there was no reason to believe they would not be useful during the present one.

Lord Halifax expressed regret the press had received advance knowledge of the Government's decision and termed it "an indiscretion due doubtlessly to clever anticipation of events."

The Foreign Secretary said members of the Government were willing to confer with any member of the House on current problems at any time and suggested that this would be a better way of handling the problem than holding a secret session.

WILL SENTENCE YOUNG MAN TODAY

Joe Bayley, Jr., Convicted Yesterday of Four Separate Fraud Counts in Saanich Court

Found guilty of four separate charges of obtaining money by false pretences with intent to defraud, Joe Bayley, Jr., was remanded until 2 o'clock this afternoon for sentence by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in the Saanich police court yesterday.

Bayley was convicted on two fraud counts to the sum of $3 each, and two for $1.50 each. He sold subscriptions to a magazine which were to be delivered by mail about three weeks after the transactions. The subscribers, however, failed to receive their magazines.

D. Gove, 488 Obed Avenue, said that he paid Bayley $3 for a 100-weeks' subscription and received a receipt. Robert Hallam, 379 Davida Avenue, paid a like sum under similar circumstances, and both J. McGrath, 351 Davida Avenue, and Albert Firman, 376 Kerr Avenue, gave the young man $1.50 for a fifty-weeks' subscription.

Sergeant Eric Elwell, Constable Cecil Pearce and B. Bailey, American News representative, also gave evidence. Investigating the case, the police officers said they visited young Bayley in his hotel room and there he admitted, after questioning, that he had obtained the money fraudulently. However, he said that he was starting to work the next day and would repay the money he had obtained. Bailey told the court the actual price of the magazine, which did not tally with the price that the accused was charging.

on hand for the meeting, but in all probability they will join Dr. Manion here for the rally next day.

As this will be the first appearance of any national leader in the present campaign, and as radio broadcasting has been ruled out at Ottawa, Victoria Conservatives are expecting an augmented attendance at the public meeting. Dr. Manion is a vigorous, able speaker, whose platform manner is rapidly becoming a byword in Canada. This week he postponed valuable time in the campaign out of deference to the passing of Lord Tweedsmuir, former Governor-General.

Italy Orders Work on Arms for Allies and Neutrals Suspended

German Pressure Believed Responsible for Action —Forces Temporary Halt in Purchases by Foreign Commissions Operating in Rome

ROME, Feb. 15 (CP-Havas).—German pressure tonight was believed responsible for an Italian Government order to the nation's heavy industries to suspend work for the time being on armament orders from the Allies and neutral powers.

The order was understood to have been drafted by the Supreme War Council, which held a series of sessions under Premier Mussolini.

The order was expected to result in a temporary halt in purchases by foreign commissions now operating in Italy. Observers said that Italian concerns had been working on big orders for the Allies, with Great Britain and France supplying the necessary raw materials.

WORKING TO CAPACITY

Since the beginning of the war, Italian industry has been working at capacity on armament orders from both neutrals and belligerents, irrespective of those powers' political leanings.

Authoritative Fascist circles said that the Government order was based on a desire by the War Council to bring the nation's potential military strength to maximum efficiency at the earliest possible moment. Suspension of all work on foreign orders will permit industry to work exclusively for Italy's own needs, it was explained.

QUESTION EXPLANATION

Foreign observers questioned this explanation, and suggested the order might be the result of pressure from Germany, and more specifically from Dr. Karl Clodius, German economic expert, who has been active in Rumania and other Balkan nations in recent months.

RELIEF ESTIMATES TO BE DECREASED

Estimated cost to the city of unemployment relief for the current year is $128,328, compared with an actual expenditure of $141,164 last year.

The chief reason for the estimated reduction is the payment of 80 per cent of the total cost by the Federal and Provincial Governments. Last year the 80-20 basis was in force for nine months, and 60 per cent for the remaining three months.

Reductions are also shown in the relief budget for supplies, wages and the number of persons listed as 100 per cent city charges.

HUNDREDS DIE IN COLD WAVE

Germany also was hit by a severe blow as the Danube, where an early thaw had given hopes of a resumption of barge traffic, became ice-bound again.

TRAVELERS MISSING

By contrast, freak weather in Southern Serbia caused floods which damaged scores of valley villages while search parties sought in the mountains for several busloads of travelers missing for some days.

Severe cold persisted in the Scandinavian countries, with the average temperature in Denmark today about ten degrees above zero. Communication between Danish islands and the mainland was cut off.

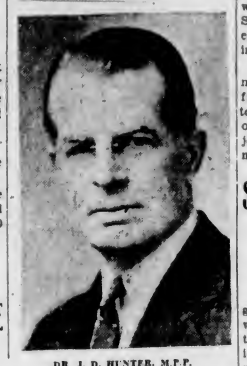

Danish steamship companies established truck routes across the ice as the only means of reaching isolated islands, and every available commercial air plane was pressed into service to transport fuel and food to the sufferers.

SCARRED VICTOR WELCOMED HOME

"We are especially able to congratulate you upon the fortune which enabled you to fight an action in the old style, instead of the long and intricate struggle with mines and U-boats which your comrades in the flotillas have been waging here.

SHADES OF THE PAST

"This great action will long be told in song and story. When you came up the river this morning, when you entered the harbor, there were crowds cheering on the banks. One might almost have thought that there were other spectators, great shades of the past carrying us back to Drake and Raleigh, to the great sea dogs of old times.

"If their spirits brooded on this scene you would be entitled to tell them: 'We, your descendants, still make war, and we have not forgotten the lesson you taught us. Many months, perhaps some years, of long and anxious struggle lie before us, and we face the future in a spirit of serious resolve.'

"You all have lost good comrades and shipmates who are not here this day. But you are here and your gallant ship is back to cheer the hearts of your fellow-countrymen. You have come back with a work notably and faithfully accomplished in a worthy cause, with your honors gathered and your duty done."

DESRIBES PART OF ACTION

Able Seaman V. Cross, of Bristol, described tonight how the Nazi ship's fifth salvo killed and wounded many of the Exeter's men.

"I was on the bridge when the salvo burst," he said. "Next to me were Bugler Hill, who was seventeen, and Bugler Squires, who was sixteen. They were standing side by side, and fragments of shrapnel killed them both.

"Eight of fifteen men in one gun crew were killed, and the turret was put out of action. Lieutenant-Commander Bowen, the manifold navigator, was standing in pyjamas on the bridge, leaning over the compass. The same shell burst killed him and eight marines. This was about a quarter of an hour after the action had begun."

HITS CONTROL TOWER

An officer told how the Exeter had at times steamed within 800 yards of the Graf Spee while they thundered broadsides at each other. After the British gunners registered a direct hit on the German battleship's control tower, he said, its originally accurate fire began to go wild.

After the battle the Exeter was repaired at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands.

DEPARTURE SECRET

A unit of 300 "Death's Head" Hungarians assembled in London likewise is awaiting group transportation to the North. Others of the volunteers will go to Finland singly. The times and means of departure of all these men are being kept secret.

At Newcastle, fifty Britons applied for service at the Finnish Consulate up to today.

Possible dispatch to Finland of Polish flyers now under training in England is under consideration by the British and Polish Governments, it was reported.

Final decision is expected when General Wladislaw Sikorski, Premier of the Polish Government-in-Exile, arrives here next week from Paris.

Supposing such a decision is reached, however, it was believed only a relatively few Polish flyers would be sent to Finland. The Finnish Government was reported to be reluctant to anger Germany by pitting a "Polish legion" against the Soviet.

DRAMA AWARD COMES TO CITY

A. M. D. Fairbairn, One of Six Canadians Selected Here Last Night

A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, was named winner of one of the six Canadian Drama Awards made at the annual meeting of the governing committee held last night at the Empress Hotel. One other British Columbian, Frederick H. Fullerton, of Vancouver, was honored; Alberta received two, and Saskatchewan and Manitoba one each.

Mr. Fairbairn was among the originators of the Little Theatre organization in Victoria, and has been an indefatigable worker in the movement for many years, his plays for several seasons taking important place in the Drama Festival contests. He also attained considerable distinction locally as actor and producer. He has had numbers of plays published in New York and elsewhere.

Mr. Fullerton, the other British Columbian, has been chairman of the Greater Vancouver Young People's Union for years; president of the Provincial Y.P.U., and past president of the Greater Vancouver Y.P.U., Knox Young People's Society, and chairman for some years of the Greater Vancouver Y.P.U. Drama Festivals.

The Alberta winners were Mrs. Eva G. Howard, of Edmonton, and Mrs. W. H. Greenham, of Banff. The former has been on the play selection committee of the Edmonton Little Theatre since its organization.

Victor W. Mills, of Regina, was the Saskatchewan choice. He is recognized as one of the best actors in that province and has adjudicated several Saskatchewan Drama League Festivals.

Professor John Russell, of the Manitoba Department of Architecture and Fine Arts, was chosen from that province. He is a lecturer on theatre art at the University of Manitoba.

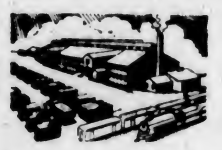

The Canadian Drama Award, since its inception in 1935, has been presented each year in recognition of outstanding services in the development of Canadian drama.

HALF the fun of taking snapshots at night is in working out novel lighting effects. You don't need a lot of lighting equipment, either. Two photo bulbs in cardboard reflectors, and a light-toned wall for a background—these enable you to evolve numerous interesting lightings that add value to your pictures.

The diagrams below show how you change the position of your lights to obtain different effects. S stands for subject, C for camera, and B for background. The number 1 indicates a No. 1 photo bulb in cardboard reflector, and 2 indicates a No. 2 bulb. These two bulbs, when in reflectors, are sufficient for box-camera snapshots on high-speed film.

At left, first row, is the regular 45-degree lighting. Centre, a more dramatic effect, with one light directed on the background. Right, a still more striking effect, with a light on the subject from either side. Second row, left, a silhouette effect, with one light behind the subject and turned toward the wall. Centre, backlighting, with a light to the right behind the subject. Note shield "X" which keeps light from shining into the camera lens. At right, "halo" lighting, with one light behind the subject, shining through the hair.

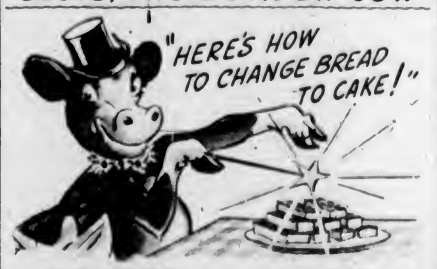

In taking these shots, keep the lights the right distance from the subject, and don't let them shine into the camera lens. You should then get good pictures—and you'll find that careful arrangement of lights will make them more intensely interesting.—John van Guilder.

PATRICIA BAY AIR BASE

For some reason, unknown to the public, the Dominion Government has contrived to make the establishment of the Patricia Bay Air Base a long drawn-out undertaking. With the exigencies of the conditions that decreed this work it should have been finished and in operation many months ago. That it is not suggests that there should be a governmental explanation of the reasons for delay in the construction of the air base and its necessary appurtenances. It is public money that is being expended; it is the taxpayers who have the right to know the manner of the outlay. Much could be explained if specific answers were given to the following questions:

What is the estimated cost of the completed air base, and what has been the expenditure up to date?

What is the cost of grading and draining, compared with the estimated cost, and has this work been completed?

Why has work been suspended on the runways for nearly four months, and what will be the cost of these when completed?

According to present plans, the permanent steel hangar is to be completed by the end of the present month. Will the cost exceed $172,000, and if so, what will be the final outlay for this facility at the air base?

What progress has been made in the proposed construction of twelve non-permanent buildings, and what will be their final cost; also what will have been the expenditure on hospital and administration building when completed?

How long will the dredging of Patricia Bay for seaplane accommodation at the air base occupy, and what will be the cost, including that for the double seaplane hangar to be constructed?

What are the names of the firms that have been, or are, engaged on the various contracts; what was the amount of each contract, and was there, in one or more cases, a revision of the original tender, or tenders, permitted by the Government, and why?

What work at the air base, if any, had to be done over again because of contracting inefficiency? If this happened at all, what was the added cost to the Government?

What, if any, is the relationship of the defeated Liberal candidate (in the Nanaimo constituency in 1935) to the distribution of political patronage in connection with the undertaking?

What is the procedure for anyone (apart from contractors' employees) seeking to secure work at the air base?

What censorship prevails as affecting construction of the air base, and why?

These and germane matters dealing with this governmental undertaking could, if explained in detail, afford some enlightenment to the taxpayers, and at least give an indication why there has been so much delay in the establishment of this facility, which, presumably is wanted for defence purposes on this Coast, and, as well, as a link in the Empire air training scheme.

MR. LINDLEY CREASE

A member of the British Columbia Bar for half a century, Mr. Lindley Crease cannot pass from life without many memories being evoked as to the manner of man he was who served his profession so long and so faithfully, with such probity, and with that courtesy by which public fidelity is won. Those members of the legal fraternity whose memories go back to the early nineties, and many others who since then met the late Mr. Crease, will call to mind a gentle, unassuming character of courtly and engaging manners and a citizen who was the soul of honor.

His interests were many and his attraction to them earnestly genuine. He was the Christian who practised faith in his dealings with his fellow men, in his activities in Church affairs; indeed, on all the occasions of his life. There was in his relationships both to those he knew well and in the matters that held his attention, a warmth of feeling. His faith found its vent through works, in extending help where it was needed genuinely, in easing the burden of his fellows if it lay within his power, in giving human companionship where it was sought, and in encouraging and helping all who appealed to his sympathies.

Mr. Crease, through his long residence in British Columbia, where he was born, was as well if not better known than any lawyer in the province, not alone because of the law cases in which he figured but for an intense humanity, an old world dignity and qualities of head and heart which are found only among those who have learned the true worth of moral values. His death removes a figure associated for fifty years with worth-while activities. He will be missed by all who knew him, and his host of friends and acquaintances will extend their deepest sympathy to the members of his family who are left to recall one who was always their pillar of strength and affection.

SHIPPING PROBLEM

Speaking here this week, in the course of a lecture tour across the continent, Lord Marley made an interesting point when he said that shipping control was being operated along lines that will permit the fullest effective use of merchant shipping under the British flag. The aim, he said, was to insure that vessels leaving United Kingdom ports had full cargoes for outgoing voyages, as well as for the return of raw materials to Great Britain.

In this, Lord Marley put his finger squarely on the chief difficulty in regard to Pacific-borne commerce between Great Britain and Canada, where Canadian exports far overbalance Canadian imports on this Coast. In grain, lumber and other products, British Columbia could make use of all vessels that may be routed to this Coast under the control system. On the other hand, outgoing cargoes from Great Britain have been noticeably light, and these are not days in which ships can afford to move in ballast alone.

As conditions clarify, and the need for waterborne transportation develops, some plan may be worked out whereby a greater percentage of Canadian imports might be brought in by Pacific ports, making return bottoms available. Western Provinces, at all events, could well afford to devote some study to the subject, where lumber and grain movements are of immediate consequence to their internal economy. Even in peace time an unbalanced trade would not pay, while in war time special efforts should be made to keep goods moving.

CONFUSED COMMUNIST AIMS

The War aims of the Communists seem strangely mixed, the more so since Russia embarked on a policy of aggression. A manifesto of the Communist parties in Germany says the aim is "to convert the international war into a war for Socialism of the Communist type." It says that the Communists are exerting all their energies to support the fight of the Czechs, Slovaks, Austrians and Poles for national freedom. The manifesto applauds the "peace policy" of the Soviet Union, but says nothing of the war in Finland or of Russian conquest of half of Poland. One excerpt from the manifesto reads: "The Communists are fighting against the unbearable war burdens which are placed on the shoulders of the people; against the lack of rights of the working masses; for the release of all political prisoners from prisons and concentration camps; against all national oppression, and for full and free right of self-determination of the Czechs, Slovaks Austrians and Poles."

Obviously this manifesto, though printed in The Communist World News and Views, has been written by those who are not in harmony with their comrades in Russia, the spiritual home of Communism. The German Communists must disown the "blood relationship" mentioned in M. Stalin's telegram to Herr Ribbentrop. Russia does not want to allow Poland the right of self-determination, nor is she willing to apply the same doctrine in Finland. The Communists of Germany, seeking to free the Czechs, Slovaks, the Austrians and Poles from aggression must be an embarrassment to the German authorities who, however, do not know how to deal with them because of the alliance with Russia.

On April 6, 1934, Major Douglas, the chief protagonist of Social Credit, appeared as a witness before the Agricultural Committee of the Alberta Legislature. He said to that committee: "I myself and those with me arrived at the conclusion that by about 1940, if the rate of production increased in Great Britain only uniformly, and it is quite likely to increase very rapidly by what we call acceleration, there would only be possible work in Great Britain for eight million out of about fourteen million available working population." It is 1940, and Great Britain's unemployed number approximately 1,500,000. This is one of many of Major Douglas' predictions which have been falsified by the efflux of time.

Mr. T. A. Crerar, a member of the Federal Government, has come back from a trip to England and France and he says that the people of the Allied nations realize that they are faced with a crisis greater than ever in the past. If Mr. Crerar can persuade the Government of this, Canada's "half-way" War policy might be translated into a "full" effort.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

There, that is better! For an hour and a half I have been looking at the real Canada—the Canada which turned out in May and June last year to take King George and Queen Elizabeth to its heart. The official films, shown here this week, reveal the texture, depth and sincerity of that welcome. Canadians from coast to coast roused themselves as never before in their history. Beyond the respect and homage to a sovereign, there was something deeper, more vibrant, and very close to the heart. Here, for many, was the Motherland personified, an object upon which to lavish not alone duty, but affection. Their Majesties were not only a Monarch and his Royal Consort, but a page of British history brought to life, clothed in flesh and blood, capable of receiving affection and of returning it. "This great, friendly continent." Queen Elizabeth said aptly. The pictures bring it all back with a rush. Canada's was not only a loyal, but a friendly welcome. Their Majesties could have walked anywhere in this land, not only unharmed, but gratefully and gladly welcomed.

The children steal the show. From the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again you can see their upturned faces laughing happily, their arms waving madly, their mouths open in a continuous roar of welcome that had no beginning and was never at an end. Citizens of tomorrow, they were seeing a Canada that their parents never saw; a united, loyal, enthusiastic, great and friendly land. In their parks and stadiums, along the railway tracks, mile after mile on close-packed city streets, in knots and clusters on the lonely prairies waving children cheered, and, waving, cheered again. Watch their expression in the pictures. The children were seeing story-book fairies come to life before their eyes. There was a King who stood in the shoes of Alfred the Great. Beside him was a Queen more gracious and more charming than anything their history texts had prepared them to expect. The age of George and Elizabeth, perhaps the greatest age in all British history, was launched for the children that day.

The veterans had their part, long sober lines of them. Men who had helped to make history, make Canada and much that this country today stands for in the eyes of the world, they were there. Watch the expression on their faces. See how the faces light up, glow with an inner radiance, like sunshine piercing through darkened clouds. Here was a bond among men, real men, men who had lived under fire. Here was loyalty, respect and support for the uniform, and sympathy, understanding and esteem for its wearer. Words did not seem to be needed, and the picture shows that relatively few words were used. Something deeper, and more real; something straight from the heart passed between the be-ribboned lines reviewed, and the reviewer. The film shows the scene at the Cenotaph in all its deep significance; shows, too, how Their Majesties turned to walk among the crowd; how the crowd opened and gave way for them; how they stood in their carriage and waved, until waving could serve no longer. A precious sight that; something that old and lonely men will carry to their graves with them as the best remembered reward for sacrifice that helped to make a nation, and an Empire, great. On the radio at the time the same message came through. The widow of Colonel Barker, a memory of Dr. Scrimageur, "Canon" Scott, names a generation placed at the top. Ah, the pictures did well by the veterans.

Then there was the record of the land itself. City after city, river after river, mountain after mountain, mile after mile of land and waterway. Surely this is a great land, a land of vast spaces, a land for real men and women. Who peoples Canada? The pictures showed that, too. Clean-cut, hard-working men and women, and their families, living a sober way of life, sometimes in isolation. Hardy men and women, who had gone a thousand miles to see their King and Queen. Men and women who have built homes for themselves, and keep their household gods. Men and women to whom the law was a friend, and not an enemy. Men and women who saw in Their Majesties a father and a mother with children of their own. The pictures showed that clearly. The curtseying flower girls, the small tots in their perambulators, the baby who proudly munched an upraised foot were among Canada's best and finest exhibits. And so the long pageant passed, from province to province, from coast to coast and back again. Everywhere the cameras turned they portrayed the same story, the story of the King and Queen come home to Canada—the age of George and Elizabeth, with its ripening promise for the not too distant future. So we may look forward, beyond the storms of the day, to an age which His Majesty referred to when he spoke of peace and freedom, saying that ever they must go hand in hand.

Firemen Hurt at Metal Plant Fire

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—Four firemen were injured today in a blaze at a metal plant in Hounslow. Several explosions, believed due to chemicals, occurred while the blaze was in progress. Magnesium stocks in the factory caught fire and heavy blue fumes swirled around the entire district for nearly half a mile.

Glancing Over Sport

Losing to Seattle by three baskets after a hurry-up trip to the Sound City via Port Angeles is certainly a credit to the performance put on for the benefit of the Sound City fans the other night against such a powerful club as the Savidges. According to reports the Dominoes arrived at the gymnasium about seven minutes before they were scheduled to step on the court, which makes their display and gallant fight for victory all the more spectacular . . . Do you know that Arturo Godoy, the lad who surprised the boxing world the other night under the floodlights in Madison Square Garden by staying the limit with Joe Louis, is ranked tenth by Nat Fleisher, editor of Ring Magazine, the most noted authority on the fight game in the world? And that rating was made long before Godoy was matched with the Bomber. That means that the Chilean heavyweight will step over several others in the climb up the ladder and is probably now perched in about fourth spot . . . After witnessing the fight pictures of the Dempsey-Willard fight, which took place twenty years ago, fight experts come out in the open and definitely state that the Manassa Mauler would stop the present king of the heavies after a furious battle. They state that Louis would be in there punching his heart out, but that the murderous blows of the hardest puncher the game has ever known would finally wear down the Brown Bomber in about six or eight rounds.—J.D.

Not Sure of Facts

Pedestrians looked in amazement at a newsboy on Douglas Street bellowing: "We've been robbed. We've been robbed." The headlines on the papers he sold read, "North Shore Gets Contract for Ships." Since Victoria has been awarded a contract to produce six ships, the newsboy would appear to be a prevaricator . . . An old Chinese walked into a jewelry shop with a battered watch badly in need of extensive repairs. "How much you fixum?" he asked the jeweler in halting English. Screwing his eye around a magnifying glass and prying open the case, the jeweler answered, "It will cost you five dollars to have it repaired." The Chinese exclaimed, "Five dollah! Too much." The watchmaker replied that the timepiece needed a lot of repairs before it could be made serviceable. After thinking the matter over, the Chinese remarked with a grin, "Maybe you make him' go lidda bit for two dollah fifty cent" . . . A Heywood Avenue mother was surprised to find three fancy cakes missing from a batch she baked for visitors. She noticed a guilty expression on the face of her youngest son and asked the lad, "Why did you take three cakes?" Instantly the boy replied, I was playing make-believe I was triplets, mum."—G.B.

Save Silver Paper

A special appeal is being made by the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League for silver paper, which will be sold in aid of the Solarium for crippled children. For many years this collection of silver paper has been carried on in Victoria, and in answer to many inquiries regarding the use of silver paper and price paid, the following extract from an English paper may be of interest: "If you can let a hospital have your silver paper you will be doing the nation a good turn as well as helping the hospital funds, for a Yorkshire firm pays about £20 a ton for silver paper. Warning: Do not roll the paper into a ball. This only means more work for those who convert it into material needed for armaments. Keep it flat."—M.R.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of February 16, 1890.)

Fire Hall Notice—The chief engineer and fire wardens have decided to drop the old names by which the fire stations have so long been known, and to recognize them in future by the modern systems of numbers only. The Deluge engine house (No. 3) will be headquarters; No. 2, the Tiger station, and No. 1, James Bay. The bell from the old hook and ladder house is to be taken next week to station No. 1, from the belfry of which it will in future sound its alarms.

Off the Track—The southbound train on the E. & N. did not arrive until 2:30 yesterday. The delay was caused by a freight train at Northfield slipping off the switch, which had been covered with seven inches of snow and ice, which clogged it during Thursday night. No damage was done, each train proceeding on its way after one hour and a half's delay.

Their First Parade—On Wednesday next, Pythian Day, the uniformed ranks in this city will give their first open-air parade and fancy drill. All Sir Knights will turn out in full uniform and the band of the order will head the procession.

GIVES TALK ON SCRAP UTILITY

Morris L. Greene Addresses Fellow Rotarians on Used Iron and Steel

The uses of scrap iron are almost unlimited and industry is beginning to realize the necessity of this commodity, Morris L. Greene told fellow Rotarians in a craft talk at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Last year in the United States, he said that some 100 million tons of iron were manufactured, and 54.7 per cent of this was from scrap metal. The tonnage from scrap in Canada in the same period was just over 600,000 tons, but he expected it would be more than doubled in 1940.

Because of the scrap industry, the price of resultant commodities was lowered enough so that the average man could afford to buy them, Mr. Greene declared. In this regard, the business was playing a major part in helping industry, the speaker stated.

HAVE FORMED GUILD

The dealers had formed themselves into a guild and the verbal contract of one of these dealers meant as much as a legal document, said Mr. Greene.

He also told of the different methods of converting old iron and steel into scrap by passing it through heavy presses.

Mr. Greene said it would not be practicable to establish a rolling mill here. It would cost anywhere from ten to fifty millions of dollars for a mill that could roll out a rail, and 100 to 200 millions for a mill capable of turning out plates.

He stated there were two mills in Seattle which could handle all the scrap metal available on the Pacific Coast.

Walter Luney, president, introduced and thanked the speaker.

SAANICH GROWERS SEEK NEW MARKET

Export of Potatoes to South America Urged at Meeting—Association to Be Formed

Seeing an export field for British Columbia potatoes in the South American market, formerly supplied by European countries, some fifty Saanich farmers have decided to form a potato growers' association to improve their product and bring it up to the high standard necessary for export to foreign countries.

This decision was reached at a meeting in the Keating Temperance Hall on Thursday night, when Saanich Peninsula farmers agreed to join growers of the Lower Mainland in an effort to capture the South American market.

Several Mainland growers attended the meeting and offered advice and co-operation in the plan. Speakers included Dr. William Newton and T. Buell, of the Dominion Government Experimental Station at Bazan Bay, and A. Coleman, Mainland member of the Marketing Control Board, who claimed that the tariff on Canadian potatoes entering the United States was unfair.

L. C. Hagan was elected chairman and Lorne Thomson was named secretary of the growers' association. A second meeting will be called at an early date.

RISE OF PRICES

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—The Board of Trade Journal reported yesterday that wholesale prices generally in Britain have risen 27 1-2 per cent since January, 1939. Food is up 33 1-2 per cent, it said, and industrial materials and manufactures 24 per cent.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Air Force Guide To Service Flying

(A REVIEW)

Written anonymously by "Group Captain," with a view to supplying a wide diversity of practical data for Air Force personnel, "The Air Force Guide" is now off the presses of the Copp Clark Company, Ltd., Toronto, in compact pocket form, with 180 pages and incidental tables.

As a preface explains, "The Air Force Guide" is designed as an adjunct to service manuals in the Royal Canadian Air Force, and will be of interest to commissioned and non-commissioned officers in the flying and ground staffs of the service.

Sections on map-reading, the marking of ground signals, and technical phases of service flying are informative, and thoroughly up-to-date. Air Force law and the problems of command in barracks and in the field are other sections dealing effectively with a wide variety of relevant matters. Chapters on flying contain many practical pointers for service pilots, observers and air personnel.

In the preface to the Guide tribute is paid to Sir George Cayley, the English engineer, who more than a century ago prepared plans for a heavier-than-air machine involving the use of a curved, or cambered wing. Flight by this means, however, did not follow until the later development of the internal combustion engine, giving power in accessible and compact form.

As a reference work which can be carried in the pocket, "The Air Force Guide" should fill a practical need in service ranks of the day.

TAKE IT!

It happened at a wild party. Shortly after midnight, a jealous wife went round looking for her husband. Finally she found him sitting in the kitchen, with a heavy blonde parked on his lap. So big was this blonde that, as she sat on the man's lap, she practically concealed him from view.

The jealous wife faced the blonde.

"Pardon me," she stated icily, "but you happen to be sitting on a married man's lap!"

The blonde arose hurriedly.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," she apologized. "I didn't know this seat was taken!"

According to Culbertson

Bridge hands so cut and dried that only one line of play is worthy of consideration are both rare and dull. Fortunately for the zest of the game, most hands present an ever-varying, fascinating problem as to the proper method of handling. The player who can select the plan which has the greatest mathematical chance for success is pretty sure to come out on the right side of the score. Today's hand offers a nice choice of alternate lines of play.

North, dealer.

North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
Pass	Pass

South had a difficult decision to make over his partner's three club bid. He considered bidding three no trump but decided in favor of a five club bid, feeling that his two and one-half honor tricks should be enough, with North's opening bid and raise to fulfill an eleven trick contract, and that North might even be encouraged to bid a slam.

West's opening lead of the spade queen was won by South's king and the declarer now took stock. He knew that the best way to handle the trump suit to hold the loss to one trick was to take two finesses through West, but the odds in favor of this play were very slim, and to adopt it would force him later to guess the location of the diamond queen (the loss of at least one trump trick and the ace of hearts was unavoidable). Rather than attempt the 50-50 guess of the diamond queen, the declarer settled on a different line of play entirely.

He first laid down the king of hearts. East won and returned a spade. Now the ace of trumps was cashed followed by two rounds of high hearts and then a trump lead. When the two adverse honors fell together, declarer's troubles were over. East on lead with the king, had the sorry choice of leading a major suit card which would allow declarer to discard a diamond while he ruffed in dummy, or of leading directly into the diamond suit, making a guess for the queen unnecessary.

Japanese May Make Claim To Large Territory on Ross Sea

Activities of Admiral Byrd in South Polar regions on behalf of the United States have had repercussions in Japan. Already in an effort to consolidate Japan's claim to 12,800 square miles of territory in the Antarctic, said to have been discovered three decades ago by an expedition headed by Lieutenant Choku Shirase, airplane exploration flights over the South Pole region are being discussed in connection with the celebration in Japan of the 2,600th anniversary of the founding of the Japanese Empire.

Marquis Nobutsone Okuma, as did his late father, together with other men of influence, is backing the new exploration project, according to travelers recently arriving from Japan. The idea is also being spurred by the Byrd expedition and is supported by officials of the Agriculture and Forestry Ministry, which is eager to obtain bases for Japanese whaling operations in the Antarctic.

The Japanese assert the Ross Sea, gateway to the Antarctic area, was originally explored by the Shirase expedition, which named it Kainan Bay. The official and popular apathy in Japan toward Antarctic exploration is now deplored, according to the stories. A prominent Japanese is quoted as saying: "We old-timers cannot stand by and see the fruits of the Japanese spirit of never-ceasing advance buried without further efforts. During the 2,600th year of our empire we would like to carry out an expedition to help the nation."

A bill was presented to the Diet last month, which proposes to lay claim to a large area in the Antarctic, discovered in 1912 by the expedition headed by Lieut. Shirase. The bill was drafted by the Japan's Young Men's Association. Lieutenant Shirase, who is also active in connection with the matter, claims that since Admiral Byrd has recognized the claim as valid, Japan should not hesitate to announce its sovereignty over the territory in question. The proclamation should be made through parliamentary procedure, Shirase stated, and he advised copies of such proclamation be sent to Great Britain, the United States, France, Norway, Denmark, Spain and Germany, through their ambassadors.

Japanese whaling ships are now reporting good catches of whales in the South Polar seas traversed by the survey ship commanded by Shirase twenty-seven years ago. It is the first time they have penetrated the Antarctic so far.

Fear Schooner and Crew Lost In Atlantic Blizzard

YARMOUTH, N.S., Feb. 15 (CP).—Five fishermen on a Yarmouth schooner were missing tonight on the Atlantic after a raging blizzard swept over the sea off the western end of Nova Scotia.

A searching coast guard ship returning to port reported no trace of the auxiliary vessel Seretha, which left here yesterday shortly before the start of a storm that drove other fishing craft in the vicinity to cover.

The sixty-five-foot ship was feared tonight to have been disabled or sunk in the blizzard, raging for two days.

Launches Wooden Motorship Built For Can Company

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP).—The wooden eighty-foot hull of the motorship Cancolim II, latest addition to the fleet of American Can Company, Limited, slid down the ways at W. R. Menchlons' yards today and was towed to Ballantyne Pier, where a set of 240 horsepower Diesel engines will be installed.

The vessel is to be used as a service craft for canneries along the Coast. She has a beam of 16.6 feet, a 10.6 feet depth of hull and a loaded draft of 7.6 feet.

She was launched by Mrs. W. S. Dirker, wife of the company's general manager.

Coast Guard Ship Prepares to Tow Crippled Tanker

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP).—The coast guard cutter Pontchartrain reached the side of the 3,262-ton tanker Aztec off the New Jersey Coast today, five hours after the tanker sent out word by wireless that she was floundering in a raging sea with a crippled steering gear.

The coast guard vessel prepared to tow the stricken ship from fifty miles southeast of Sandy Hook to Ambrose Lightship.

SAYS PREMIER SCUTTLED PLAN

Refusal of British Training Scheme a Disgrace, F. S. Cunliffe States

On the one issue alone of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's refusal in 1937 to allow British airmen to be trained in Canada, the present Government deserved to be "thrown out neck and crop," Frank S. Cunliffe, Conservative candidate for the Nanaimo riding, told a meeting of Saanich Ward Two electors in St. Mark's Hall last night.

That refusal was to the everlasting shame and disgrace of the King Government, he declared. Canadians would never know how much they had lost by it in prestige within the Empire.

"Any decent Canadian," Mr. Cunliffe said, "must hang his head in shame to think that we have relied on the British Navy to defend our coast, have allowed our ancient partner to shoulder the burden of our defence, accepted from them preferential trade agreements, and yet, when they ask the privilege of training aviators on our soil, where they would be free from fog and danger of being harassed by the enemy, we bluntly refused.

SAYS KING QUIBBLING

"It is all right for our young men to be trained in Great Britain; but the British Government must not train in Canada the very men who would actually be defending Canada. Mr. King now quibbles about it. He says he couldn't allow them to train their men on our soil; that we would train them in our own establishments. We had then no establishments; no men to undertake the training.

"Had that suggestion been acted upon three years ago, our air force in Canada would have been trained to a far higher standard, and in addition millions of dollars of British money would have been spent in the Dominion on plants and establishments and the production of planes for which money is now going to the United States."

"RUNNING AWAY"

In a scathing attack upon the King Government's unpreparedness for the prosecution of the war, Mr. Cunliffe charged that to the Liberals the war was a secondary consideration to the building up of party funds; that specific charges leveled against the Government concerning defence department contracts had never been answered, other than by the transfer of the defence portfolio from Hon. Ian Mackenzie; that by the sudden dissolution of Parliament the Government must be running away from something, afraid that the people would find out what had been going on.

He noted, he said, that his Liberal opponent had replied that the contracts were entered into prior to the war. "They were just as wrong before the war as they would have been after it, and we don't know what contracts have been let since, because they won't let us find out," the candidate declared.

He endorsed Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion's proposal of national, non-partisan prosecution of the war effort, instead of "party administration for party advantage."

Mr. Cunliffe was supported on the platform by Russell C. Twining, who spoke on behalf of the younger Conservatives of the intelligent reform offered by the party's policy. Percy Mickleburgh was chairman.

Tonight Mr. Cunliffe will address a meeting in the Gordon Head Hall, at 8 o'clock. Other speakers will be Leslie Osborne and R. A. Wootton.

"You once kept a cook for a whole month, you say?"

"Yes."

"Wonderful! How did you manage it?"

"Why, we were cruising on a houseboat, and she couldn't swim."

Lifeboat Service Is Congratulated For Saving Lives

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—Congratulations to British lifeboat crews for saving more than 15,000 lives since war began were sent the lifeboat service today by Sir Archibald Carter, Permanent Secretary of the Admiralty. Speaking for the navy "as from seamen to seamen," he praised the "exemplary courage and endurance without fear or thought of self" shown by the men.

PRAISES FOR ALERT GROUP

Lightkeeper Hunting and Coast Patrol Commended By Onondaga Personnel

"Sincerely appreciate co-operation of D. F. (direction finding) station, lightkeepers, linemen, beach patrol and others who assisted us Wednesday and today. Last night's vigilance and signaling with hand lamp was invaluable. We were fortunate to have worked with such an efficient and alert group of men."

The above message was received by Jack Hunting, lightkeeper at Pachena Point, West Coast of Vancouver Island, and is from the commander, officers and crewmen of the United States coast guard cutter Onondaga, and followed the rescue of the three survivors of the United States seiner Varsity, which was wrecked with the loss of four lives at Tsowwas on the night of February 7 last.

Lightkeeper Hunting forwarded the text of the letter to Colonel A. W. R. Wilby, agent for the Department of Transport here.

FOR STONE FRIGATE

A detachment of Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve officers will leave the Pacific Coast on February 28 for Kingston, Ont., where they will attend H.M.C.S. Stone Frigate, affiliated with Royal Military College. They will receive an eight-week advance course of training for their duties as officers.

UNUSUAL FIND

American whalers returning from the Antarctic recently brought stories of finding three sets of whale twins during last season's operations. Four of the twins, yet unborn, were from two finback whales. The mother of the other set was a big blue whale. It is rare for the seagaing stork to bring twin whales.

The three sets of twins were the only ones found in the season's catch of 2,204 whales, from which was processed 7,156,700 gallons of oil; 216 tons of bone, and 396 tons of meat fertilizer, all valued at $3,250,000.

NOT SO EASY

The number of ships of more than 1,000 tons in Japan as at the end of November last year was 4,084, with an aggregate tonnage of 5,728,779 tons, showing an increase of 146 ships of 262,868 tons compared with the end of December, 1938. Of the total increase in the number of ships, ninety-nine ships, aggregating 242,083 tons, are registered in Japan proper.

According to the expansion scheduled under the commodity mobilization programme, there will be a shortage of 200,000 tons in new ships scheduled to be constructed before the end of the current fiscal year, according to investigations by the Vessels Control Bureau of the Japanese Communications Department. The difficulty of acquiring materials is given as the reason for the shortage compared with the ship construction schedule.

Although various measures have been and are being devised by the Japanese Government to ensure the supply of construction materials, it is considered altogether impossible to realize the Government's ship construction schedule aiming at an ultimate tonnage of 7,500,000 tons by the end of the fiscal year 1942-43.

OIL TANKER TONNAGE

World oil tanker tonnage is in control of relatively few organizations. Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has by far the largest fleet, exceeding 2,100,000 tons. The Royal Dutch Shell Oil combine, the British and American navies and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company follow in order. With these fleets now operating to capacity, the sharp rise in rates for the remaining available tonnage is easily explained. The leading owners of tonnage, it is understood, credit their shipping subsidiaries at current world rates, so that profits of these organizations at present are relatively large.

Control Port for Eastern Point Is Under Discussion

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP).—Establishment of a contraband control port at Saint John, N.B., has been under discussion for some time, but actual negotiations regarding it are still in a preliminary stage, it became known today.

It is a matter for agreement between the British and Canadian, and perhaps, the United States Governments.

Under the war zone as defined by the United States Neutrality Act, United States ships are permitted to enter Saint John, but not Halifax.

HERRINGS RUNNING

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP).—After a late start the herring run is well under way in Prince Rupert harbor, and last week's catches averaged about 600 tons daily. Both the Tuck's Inlet and Port Edward reduction plants are working at capacity, with the surplus going down the coast to the Namu plant.

Quashes Conviction

A conviction under the Juvenile Delinquents Act, in the case of a Cowichan Lake youth on a charge of driving his car on Christmas Day in a manner dangerous to the public, was set aside by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in a Supreme Court decision handed down yesterday.

SCRAP OF POSTCARD

Next in line comes the litterateur who pens 7,000 words on a postcard. Europe might hire him to inscribe future treaties, for such condensed wording would be much easier to tear up.

PASSED AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Divisional Superintendent of Government Telegraphs Dies on Mainland

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP).—Oscar Landry, fifty-seven, British Columbia divisional superintendent of Dominion Government Telegraph Service, died in hospital today after a brief illness.

Mr. Landry joined the service in 1902 and was stationed first at Quesnel Forks, B.C., in the Cariboo district. Later he traveled extensively throughout the Province and the Yukon Territory.

In 1926, Mr. Landry was appointed chief clerk at Vancouver and four years later went to Prince Rupert as district superintendent. He returned to Vancouver last year as divisional superintendent.

He is survived by his wife.

HUNCH WAS RIGHT

MONTEREY, Minn., Feb. 15 (AP).—Pilot Melvin Marple's hunch that he should not fly yesterday turned out right. He was killed. Marple, twenty-seven, was circling the landing field here in a test flight before taking up Percy Jose, owner of the ship, for a lesson. Suddenly the plane side-slipped to the ground.

EXPLOSION KILLS EIGHT

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 15 (AP).—Eight persons were killed and thirteen injured today in an explosion which destroyed a warehouse adjoining the national munitions factory on the outskirts of Bogota.

"At last man has definitely mastered the air," says a well-known pilot. If only the budding pianist next door would hurry up and do the same!

PLANE AND TWO MEN MISSING

Aircraft on Moncton-Halifax Run Overdue in Area Of Snowstorm

HALIFAX, Feb. 15 (CP).—A Canadian Airways plane missing on a flight from Moncton, N.B., to Halifax, with two occupants, was established tonight as having flown, to within thirty miles of this city before running into a snowstorm today. Those aboard were Pilot Jimmy Wade and James Noonan, Halifax manager of an oil company.

Telephone operators at towns and villages along the route of the plane's 110-mile projected flight reported to The Canadian Press the monoplane had proceeded as far as Brooklyn, a village thirty miles from here. After that, there were no reports of its progress.

Several villagers at Brooklyn saw the plane, which left the Moncton airport at 7:30 a.m., A.S.T. (3:30 a.m., P.S.T.), flying overhead between 8:15 and 8:30. One told the operators the plan ewas "flying terrible low."

SNOW OVER MOUNTAIN

Weather was clear at that point and visibility good, but twelve miles farther on, at Mount Uniacke, the plane would have run into the storm that whipped along the coast of Nova Scotia during the day. At Mount Uniacke, where the mail plane usually passed daily, it was not sighted today.

It snowed from 8 a.m. until 10:30 at Mount Uniacke, and there was a possibility the aircraft may have passed without being seen or heard. However, Pilot Jimmy Wade may have sighted the storm ahead and swung off his course to avoid it.

COLLEGE WINS RUGBY TUSSLE

Brentwood Fifteen Blanks Navy in Exhibition Fixture, 14-0

Brentwood College took the measure of a strong Navy fifteen, 14-0. The game, which was wide open, displayed a high brand of Rugby played under ideal conditions.

At the opening kick Brentwood assumed the offensive, but strong defensive tactics prevented the college backs from scoring. However, Brentwood did manage to score towards the middle of the first half, J. Clarke making the try after a good passing movement. The kick for extra points failed. Although the Navy pressed hard they failed to reach pay-dirt. The score remained 3-0 in favor of Brentwood at the breather.

Shortly after the final half had got under way the Navy were penalized for "obstruction." I. Gillespie, of Brentwood, made good a beautiful kick from a difficult angle. Again both teams put on the pressure and many fine plays were witnessed before the Brentwood backs managed to cross their opponents' line to score. Begert carried the leather over, and I. Gillespie converted.

Many times the Navy backfield, after making good openings, looked dangerous. These openings were staged by Smith, Navy's tricky scrum-half and former Rep team captain.

About ten minutes from the end I. Gillespie made a beautiful opening and then handed the ball to J. Clarke, who scored. The kick failed.

BRITISH ARMY IN SOCCER VICTORY

RHEIMS, France, Feb. 15 (CP).—A goal by G. H. Stephenson, English International inside-left, gave the British Army a 1-0 victory over the French Army in a hotly contested soccer match played here today. The Englishman headed into an empty net after twenty minutes' play.

Cheered by a big crowd of soldiers, the teams played a gruelling game, which was marked by the French players desperate attempts to knot the count in the second half. On one occasion a French forward hit the goalpost with a terrific shot and the ball was cleared from the rebound. The Englishmen displayed all-round superiority in the first half, adapting themselves better to a slippery pitch.

MEN OF TRAWLERS LOST

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP).—The Admiralty announced today that twenty-one officers and men were "missing and persumed killed" in sinking of the trawlers Bowen and Fort Royal by German air raiders five days ago.

MEN HERE WANT TO HELP FINLAND

Between 400 and 500 Over Military Age Would Form Nucleus of Expeditionary Force

Between 400 and 500 Victoria men over the age of thirty-five, many of whom have seen service in other campaigns, are anxious to volunteer their services to form an expeditionary force to aid Finland in her fight for freedom, according to information received yesterday from Captain M. D. Harbord.

Though a few of these men are of Scandanavian origin, the majority are of British and Canadian birth—men of fine physique and excellent health, but over military age, who would be good fighters under the conditions of warfare that obtain in Finland.

The idea of forming a force to throw its weight into the scale against Soviet aggression in Finland grew from more or less casual discussions among men who want to fight against totalitarianism. More and more of these men have voiced their desire to aid Finland, and the scheme began to take concrete form yesterday when Captain Harbord forwarded a letter to G. W. Tornroos, Consul for Finland at Vancouver, requesting him to investigate the possibilities of the plan and ascertain whether transportation for the volunteers could be arranged.

In the event of a volunteer force being formed, Captain Harbord has expressed willingness to organize and train the unit, and get it under way.

AUTHOR TELLS ABOUT WRITING

Irene Baird Addresses Association on "Breaking Into Fiction

Irene Baird, author, last night gave members of the Victoria section c" the Canadian Authors' Association a brief description of how she came to write "Waste Heritage," her recent novel based on a sit-down strike in the Spring of 1938.

"The dialogue, one of the much-commented-on details, and which comprises so much of the book, just wrote itself," she told her audience after recalling the tremendous amount of research which had to be made through press accounts of the strike before she was even able to begin the writing of the book. Being based on an actual incident, the details had to be historically correct, the said.

GOOD ADVICE

Introduced by the president, Mrs. F. G. Berton, Mrs. Baird gave some suggestions about "Breaking Into Fiction." Writing she characterized as "an invigorating job," but it meant hard work, and should not be undertaken too lightly, or without experience of life. The young person with an ambition to become a writer would be well advised to follow some other job or profession first so that they would know something about life first-hand.

Addressing working authors, and those ambitious to become so, she said Canada had room for, and needed, writers. In Europe or the United States one would be but one among thousands writing; but the writer in Canada had much more chance to be known, and, furthermore, could contribute something definite to Canada's literary tradition.

The meeting opened with a tribute by the president to the late Lord Tweedsmuir, and Mrs. Baird later supplemented this by saying that Canadian writers had lost a real friend in his passing, for while he lived he had given them real encouragement. Mrs. Berton read a memoriam poem written by Mrs. E. Hope Kerr.

Mrs. Myrtle Lane, convener of the dramatic group, gave a talk on the drama. Mrs. Nellie McClung thanked Mrs. Baird and spoke of the value of "Waste Heritage" as propaganda. Miss Stella Burlton sang two solos, "The Dawn" and "Time, You Old Gipsy Man."

The general superintendent said that in the outpatients' department beds are filling the aisles of the wards and flowing out along the corridors.

The amended draft deals with the duties of wardens and guards, the treatment of inmates in county and other jails, and prison diets. The regulations will be gazetted.

The P.M.L. 8, police launch, removed the body to Prince Rupert, where inquest will be arranged. The dog was removed for safe keeping.

MAITLAND BEFORE SEATTLE SOCIETY

Conservative Leader Speaks to King County Medicine Group On Professional Life

SEATTLE, Feb. 15 (AP). — R. L. Maitland, K.C., British Columbia Conservative leader, told the King County Medical Society last night one of the shortcomings of the professional world was the failure of the professions to adequately impress the public.

Maitland asserted that the older professions should stand together and educate the man in the street that they should be left alone in their chosen fields.

"They ask nothing more and they are entitled to this," he declared, "not only in fairness to them but for the protection of the public."

Mr. Jones: "Believe me, it was rather awkward getting that big fish home— I had to wait for a corridor train!"

CO-OPERATIVE COURSES BEGIN

Victoria Conferences Formally Opened by Mayor McGavin—Meet Today

"If there is one thing that is most needed in the world today, both individually and nationally, it is co-operation. Without it you cannot go anywhere. It is the major force in friendly relationships," declared Mayor Andrew McGavin, when opening the first of a series of short courses in co-operatives and credit unions.

The opening conference was held in the Campbell Building, with H. L. Campbell as chairman and the principal speaker was N. H. MacKenzie, of the department of extension of St. Francis Xavier University. Mr. MacKenzie spoke on "The Value of the Co-operative Movement in the World Today," which was an outline of the principles of the movement and what had been accomplished in other parts of Canada.

SESSIONS TODAY

The courses were arranged by a local committee with the Department of University Extension of the University of British Columbia. Today there will be a session at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow's courses include an afternoon and a night session.

It was explained that co-operative organizations were of three main types—producer co-operatives, operated chiefly by farmers and fishermen for the purpose of marketing their products to better advantage; consumer co-operatives, operated on the Rochdale plan, for the purpose of buying goods and services and returning any net surplus to the purchaser, and credit unions, in which members pool their savings and lend to those members who require money, at reasonable rates of interest.

FORTUNE TELLING CHARGE IS AIRED

Trial of Mrs. Lena Perris on a charge of undertaking to tell fortunes will be resumed before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in the city police court this morning. When represented yesterday by J. L. Alice K. Pye, police woman, testified that she had visited the accused's premises at 1423 Government Street and was beckoned inside by Mrs. Perris. She had questioned the accused, and received a reply that she told fortunes. Miss Pye had been instructed to hold $1 in her hand while her fortune was read.

PRUNING DEMONSTRATION

A pruning demonstration, open to the public, will be held at 2:15 p.m. Saturday in the garden of S. C. Terrise, 1270 Yates Street. The demonstration will be under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society. E. W. White, Provincial Department of Agriculture, will describe the work and explain pruning.

For Lenten menus, Baumert is just the thing! Favourite of the Dionne Quintuplets, it has that fresh down-on-the-farm cream cheese flavour, for it's churned from rich country cream . . . cream that's made from the milk of well-tended cows like Elsie.

Look for the Chateau family of fine cheeses at your favourite food store:

Members of the committee reported last night that baskets placed in the Hudson's Bay Co., David Spencer, Ltd., and the Irish Linen Store had all had a generous supply, and other gifts had been sent direct to the Solarium office. It is hoped that by Saturday the amount required for use in the Chippied Children's Sunshine Home will be realized.

Spring Suits Have Trim Military Lines

IT'S time to be thinking of the Spring suit. This year suits have a distinctly military flavor, adapted from Paris openings. Penny Singleton, left, has chosen "Blue Devil," a military street suit. The cutaway coat has corded shoulders that suggest epaulettes, and the collar also is corded. The coat fastens with silver buttons and is lined with red. The flared skirt has side pockets and the officer's cap has a square peak and silver button at each side. Brenda Joyce, right, wears "Checkered Career," in black and white checked wool. The fitted jacket has two patch pockets with black suede bows, and there is a bow in the back, too, to give femininity. The high-waisted skirt has a straight front and gored back. The hat is made of the suit material. Hildegarde, below, centre, is modeling the perfect suit blouse in white silk with red stripe. Above is a glimpse of the new Spring jewelry—a modern amber necklace.

P.-T.A. Activities

WILLOWS

The monthly meeting of the newly-formed Willows P.-T.A. was held on Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. Several new members were welcomed by the president, Mrs. L. Stevenson. Encouraging to all connected with the association was the fact that the membership has doubled since the inaugural meeting of a month ago. The main business of the evening was taken up with the adoption of the constitution and the election of the following to the executive: Mrs. R. I. Murphy, Mrs. S. Rennison, Mrs. L. Lovatt, Miss H. Knight, Mr. T. P. Horne and Mr. J. Roberts. Mrs. E. Day spoke briefly on the desirability of affiliation with the Victoria and District Council of the P.-T.A. The meeting then decided in favor of affiliation. On Capt. F. G. Dexter, supervising principal of the Oak Bay schools, the association conferred the honor of honorary charter member. Captain Dexter expressed his appreciation and wished the organization every success in its future endeavors.

R. W. Murdoch, chairman of the Oak Bay School Board, was appointed honorary president. Mrs. L. Stevenson, the president, announced that a tea would be held on March 5 at the home of Mrs. W. A. Pendray, 2470 Beach Drive. During the evening two solos were sung by Mr. F. Ivings, accompanied by Mrs. W. Millburn.

QUADRA

The Quadra association met in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. A. J. Stevenson, in the chair. Plans for the Spring activities were discussed and arrangements for a St. Patrick's tea were left in the hands of the social committee. The date will be announced later. Part of the proceeds from the tea will go to augment the milk fund formerly taken care of by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E. The Quadra association has undertaken to provide a rural school with old magazines. The sum of $10.54 was realized from the recent reunion dance. The Quadra unit of the Red Cross is working in conjunction with the Oaklands unit. The rooms are open each Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. for distribution of work. A smoking stand was presented to the retiring president, Mr. P. E. George, and a silver dish to Mrs. T. M. Ross, retiring secretary, and a gift to Mrs. P. W. June, retiring treasurer, for their faithful service. Musical numbers were given by former pupils of the school. Miss Elsie George sang soprano solos, Miss Inez June played selections on the steel guitar, Miss Catherine Denison sang contralto solos, and Mrs. Seton Redknap and Mr. Rick Ash played piano accordion numbers.

LANGFORD

The monthly meeting of the Langford association was held on Wednesday evening, with Mr. J. C. Nimmo in the chair. Mr. L. Smith reported that pictures were being purchased for the school, to be paid for by the association. Plans were arranged to have the Esquimalt Junior Dramatic Club hold a concert in the school on March 15 in aid of the P.-T.A. funds. It was decided that the annual meeting will be held in June this year. Mr. H. W. Hickman, Victoria College, will address the next meeting on "French Children and Schools." It was decided that Miss V. Simpson, R.N., Miss Guy and Mr. Smith form a committee to see about obtaining milk for under-weight children of the school. In tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir, two minutes' silence was observed, after which Mr. C. Holmes, district forest ranger, spoke briefly about forestry work and introduced Mr. H. W. Weatherby, publicity agent for the Forestry Department, who showed some beautiful films on fire prevention, the Royal visit and sea gardens around Victoria. Mr. W. Scafe moved the vote of thanks to the speaker. The study group will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Jeffery this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MONTEREY

A meeting of the Monterey Study Group will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. S. Hurn, 1073 Deal Street. All new members will be welcome.

DESIGN No. 732—EMBROIDERED SPREAD

"A basket of old-fashioned roses" has had its praises sung for generations by poet and songster, so, not to be outdone, we have it here in a lovely embroidered design for your very best bedroom. If you want a truly luxurious spread, work it in natural colors on pastel satin, but if you are more practical minded, you might make a very attractive cover of factory cotton embroidered in boil-proof cotton. Either way, this is indeed a design that will give you more than ordinary satisfaction. It is worked in the simplest of stitches and is very quickly finished.

The pattern includes transfer design for both the centre of spread, and bolster, together with full instructions for embroidering, stitch and color charts, material requirements, and directions for making the spread itself.

SEISMOTITE OR SCRATCHY GRIT?
This test tells the difference! Sprinkle a little cleanser on the back of a plate; rub with a coin and listen. If it's Old Dutch you'll hear no scratching or grating. For Old Dutch is made with Seismotite. But if it's a cleanser made with scratchy grit you can hear the sharp particles grate and grind.

HERE'S THE TEST that taught thousands the difference between OLD DUTCH and scratchy cleansers

Practice safety first. Use Old Dutch for housecleaning as well as for every day cleaning. Ideal for cleaning pots and pans, bathroom and kitchen porcelain, painted walls and woodwork, windows and floors. Old Dutch doesn't scratch because IT'S MADE WITH SEISMOTITE.

Little Stories for Bedtime

A Queer Breakfast

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

A long lane leads from Farmer Brown's barnyard down to his cornfield on the Green Meadows. Very early one morning Peter Rabbit took it into his funny little head to run down that long lane. Now at a certain place beside that long lane was a gravelly bank into which Farmer Brown had dug for gravel to put on the roadway near his house. As Peter was scampering past this place he caught sight of someone very busy in that gravel pit. Peter stopped short, then sat up to stare.

It was Mourner the Dove whom Peter saw. His body was a little bigger than that of Welcome Robin, but his slender neck, longer tail and wings made him appear considerably bigger. His shape reminded Peter at once of the pigeons up at Farmer Brown's. His back was greyish brown, varying to bluish-grey. The crown and upper parts of his head were bluish-grey. His breast was reddish-buff, shading down into a soft buff. His bill was black and his feet red. The two middle feathers of his tail were longest and of the color of his back. The other feathers were slaty-grey with little bands and tipped with white. On his wings were a few scattered black spots, and there was one under each ear. But he was the sides of his neck which were the most beautiful part of Mourner. When untouched by the Jolly Little Sunbeams his neck appeared much like his breast, but the moment they were touched by the Jolly Little Sunbeams they seemed to be of many colors constantly changing, which, as you know, is called iridescence.

"Well, of all things," cried Peter. "You must be crazy."

But it was not Mourner's appearance which made Peter stare; it was what he was doing. He was walking about and every now and then picking up something quite as if he were getting his breakfast in that gravel pit. Peter couldn't imagine anything good to eat there. Peter was puzzled. "Hello, Mourner!" he cried. "What under the sun are you doing in there? Are you getting your breakfast?"

"Hardly, Peter, hardly," cooed Mourner in the softest of voices. "I'm picking up a little gravel for my digestion." He picked up a tiny pebble and swallowed it.

"Well of all things," cried Peter. "You must be crazy. The idea of thinking that gravel is going to help your digestion. I should say the chances are that it will work just the other way."

Mourner laughed. "I haven't the least doubt that a breakfast of gravel would give you the worst kind of stomachache," said he. "But you are you and I am I, and there is all the difference in the world. I eat grain and hard seeds which I have to swallow whole. One part of my stomach is called a gizzard and its duty is to grind and crush my food so that it may be digested. Tiny pebbles and gravel help grind food and so aid digestion."

"Oh," said Peter.

American Body Not To Interfere With Victoria Dominoes

Torchy Torrance, of the United States Amateur Athletic Union, Taking No Action to Prevent Canadian Basketball Champions Playing With American Squads

SEATTLE, Feb. 15 (CP). — The troubles of the Victoria Dominoes have bobbed up before officials of the United States Amateur Athletic Union, but Vice-President Torchy Torrance said today he did not intend taking any immediate action against last year's Dominion basketball champions.

The British Columbia Basketball Association and the Canadian Basketball Association, at odds for the last three years with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, have asked Torrance to prevent Dominoes from playing with American teams.

The Dominoes forfeited their right to defend the Canadian championship early this season by refusing to play in the Victoria City League. Later, they were expelled from the B.C.B.A. for withdrawing from the league and for playing unauthorized exhibition games with American teams.

The situation became further complicated when Dominoes affiliated with the A.A.U. of C. The American A.A.U. controls basketball in the United States.

Torrance said today he had been approached by B.C.B.A. officials in regard to Dominoes, and asked them to work out some compromise with Dominoes and the A.A.U. of C. He said he did not want to disrupt nine years of friendly associations, and would withhold any decision he might make until hearing further from the groups involved.

MAINLAND STORY

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP).—The Vancouver Sun said today Victoria Dominoes, last year's Canadian basketball champions who have been suspended by the British Columbia and Dominion Basketball Associations, might find themselves ineligible to play against teams of the United States Amateur Athletic Union in the Northwestern League.

The Sun said the question of Dominoes' eligibility was being considered at Seattle today by Torchy Torrance, vice-president of the A.A.U. and Northwestern League official.

According to Walter Hardwick, of the Canadian Basketball Association, the reason for Dominoes' suspension were threefold.

"First of all," he said, "they played exhibition games without permission of the Canadian Basketball Association. Secondly, they wouldn't send financial statement after these games, and thirdly, they were disrupting the Victoria City League. That's why they were kicked out."

Seattle Stars Will Swim Next Week in International Gala

COACH Ray Daughters' Washington Athletic Club mermaids and mermen will be seen in action in the Crystal Garden pool, Saturday, February 24, when they visit here to compete against the pick of local swimmers in the first international gala of the season. Nine aquatic performers will make the trip from Seattle and will compete in twelve of the twenty-four events on the evening's programme. Such well-known stars as Mary Lou Haley, Betty Lea, Jean Kolinski, Irma Schoennauer, Dorsen Barker, Wally Schultz, Bruce Donaldson, Stewart Diebert and Jay Follerich will be here, and followers of the aquatic pastime should witness a grand show. There will be free style, breast stroke and backstroke events for women and men, and four senior relays. Other items on the card will provide action for Victoria's promising junior and juvenile swimmers. Miss June Stancil and Teddy Rau, city diving champions, will present a number of exhibition dives during the evening. The first race will start at 8 o'clock.

THREE RUGBY MATCHES SET

Double-Header to Be Played At Macdonald Park—Game at Oak Bay

Army and Oak Bay Wanderers senior ruggers will combine tomorrow to oppose the Navy fifteen in an exhibition match at Macdonald Park. Announcement of the fixture was made yesterday by Jack Ruttan, chairman of the Victoria Rugby Union.

Scheduled to oppose the Oak Bay team in the first game of the final round of the Barnard Cup series, soldiers were forced to default when sickness prevented them from fielding their regular side. The points will go to the Wanderers Club and place them at the top of the standings in the second half chase for the city championship.

On the lower pitch at Macdonald Park, Coach Reg. Wenman's smart University School ruggers will battle the J.B.A.A. intermediates in an exhibition fixture. The students are reported to have a well-balanced machine and should provide excellent competition for Coach Stipe's Bay aggregation.

The senior game will commence at 3 o'clock, with the intermediate fixture billed to start thirty minutes earlier.

At Oak Bay Park Oak Bay Wanderers and Navy intermediate fifteens will come together in a league encounter. The kick-off is set for 2:45 o'clock. Wanderers, present champions and first-half winners, will be conceded a slight edge over the bluejackets.

OLD COUNTRY RACING

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP). — The Jockey Club today decided that the substitute Derby and Oaks will be run at Newbury June 12 and 13, respectively. If the Newbury course should not be available for the races, usually held at Epsom, they will be run at Newmarket.

SQUADS ARE GETTING SET FOR TUSSLES

Senior and Junior Hockey Teams Preparing for Cup Play-Downs

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15 (CP).—Western senior and junior hockey play-offs will be general by the end of February or the first week in March, but so far eliminations have begun only in Edmonton.

The Western junior champions of 1939-40, Edmonton Athletic Club, beat Maple Leafs, 3-2, in the second game of a best-of-five Edmonton city series after the first game was tied, 4-4. It is possible the series winner will represent Alberta in the play-down, because no other challenger has definitely appeared.

No junior leagues operated in British Columbia this year, but Trail and Vernon will meet in a provincial semi-final, the winner to play at Fernie in the final, starting February 29.

Regina Abbott-Generals lead the South Saskatchewan Junior League by a single point over Moose Jaw Canucks, who trimmed Regina, 6-3, last time out. Notre Dame Hounds trail, and Regina and Moose Jaw are expected to play off. Saskatoon Dodgers and Kindersley will decide the Northern Saskatchewan title.

Four teams will play off in the Manitoba South Division junior circuit, with Winnipeg Monarchs and Kenora Thistles now tied at the top and Brandon Elks six points back. Portage la Prairie and Winnipeg Rangers are fighting for the fourth position. The North Division race is a bitter struggle between two Winnipeg clubs, Elmwood and Ukrainians, with St. James and St. Boniface trailing.

STRONG CONTENDERS

Monarchs, Memorial Cup national champions in 1932-35-37, are rated with Kenora and Brandon as leading Manitoba contenders, with Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon in Saskatchewan, and either of the Edmonton clubs outstanding farther West.

Fort William Columbus Club leads the Thunder Bay Junior League by a five-point margin over Port Arthur West Ends, who beat the Clubbers, 6-1, on Tuesday. Port Arthur juniors are seven points off the pace.

The senior race seems wide open. Port Arthur Bear Cats, Allan Cup champions, reached mid-February with a two-point lead over Geraldton Gold Miners in Thunder Bay.

In Saskatchewan, Saskatoon Quakers, who turned into the late February stretch with a one-point lead over Moose Jaw Millers, found Regina Vic-Aces only another point back. Yorkton Terriers trailed Regina by four points, with Flin Flon Bombers in the cellar.

At the same time, in Alberta, Calgary Stampeders led Lethbridge Maple Leafs by a single point and Turner Valley Oilers by five points. Edmonton Flyers, Olds Elks and Drumheller Miners are bunched in a fight for the fourth play-off spot, with Flyers holding a slim edge.

Trail Smoke Eaters, 1937-38 Allan Cup champions and winners of the world's amateur title in Europe last season, lost only three of their first twenty-five games in the British Columbia Kootenay League. Nelson holds second place, with Kimberley Dynamiters, apparently far inferior to Kimberley's 1936 Canadian champions, well back in third place. Dynamiters reached the Western Canada finals in last year's play-downs.

Windsor Cagers Beat Assumption In First Tussle

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 15 (CP) — Windsor Alumni, last season's Canadian basketball finalists, defeated Assumption College, 34-33, last night in the first of a best-of-three series for the city title and the right to represent Windsor in the Provincial play-downs.

Alumni were nosed out by Victoria Dominoes in a five-game series for the Dominion title last year.

Exhibition and League Cage Fixtures Tonight

Broadway Clowns, Touring Hoopsters, Will Oppose Dominoes at Sports Centre—City Play-Off Games at High School Gymnasium

Victoria basketball fans will have the choice of city league play-offs and exhibition fixtures tonight with five games scheduled.

At the High School gymnasium six quintettes will continue their bids for city honors, with intermediate and senior quintettes sharing the billing. At the Victoria Sports Centre the clever Broadway Clowns, colored touring hoopsters, will be seen in action against the Victoria Dominoes.

Here is the complete programme:

High School Gymnasium

7:00—Northwestern Creamery vs. K-V's, intermediate "A" boys.

8:00—Garrison vs. Knapp's Nurseries, senior "C" men.

9:00—West Road vs. Champion & White, senior "B" men.

Victoria Sports Centre

8:00—Preliminary game.

9:00—Broadway Clowns vs. Victoria Dominoes.

SECOND GAME

Creamerymen and K-V's will be meeting in the second game of their total-point series for the right to battle Eight Aces in the city final.

In the opening clash, the latter quintette checked in with a 21-17 victory, and will carry the four-point margin into tonight's crucial battle.

The second game on the programme will bring together the soldiers and the nurserymen in a sudden-death battle for the city senior "C" men's title. Knapp's marched into the final bracket with a 25-23 overtime victory over Commercial Bruisers on Wednesday evening.

Given top billing for the second successive night, Champion & White and West Road, senior "B" men's hoopsters, will resume their feud for the city honors. Wednesday evening the latter quintette registered a 32-29 triumph, and as a consequence will enter tonight's important fixture with a three-point lead.

CLOWNS TO PLAY

Broadway Clowns, touring colored hoopsters, will open their two-game exhibition series with the Victoria Dominoes this evening at the Sports Centre. Rated as one of the best attractions on the road, the Clowns have been breaking all attendance records since leaving New York and local officials anticipate a bumper turnout tonight.

Dominoes will be at full strength for the exhibition series with the Clowns, and will probably make the evening's work interesting for the colored hoopsters. All of the players are reported in splendid condition, following their hurried trip to Seattle Wednesday.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Fred Harding, secretary of the Sunday School Basketball League, announced last night that two play-off fixtures will be staged Saturday evening at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. Chinese Students and K-V's, junior cagemen, will meet in the curtain-raiser at 7:30 o'clock in the first game of the city play-downs. The second and final attraction will bring together the Young Dominoes and Chinese Students' intermediate "B" boys' aggregations. In the opening tilt played Wednesday at the Sports Centre Dominoes scored an impressive victory and will be favored to win again tomorrow.

STANBURY TRIUMPHS

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—Conrad Stanbury, of Winnipeg, receiving fourteen points in each frame, today beat Walter Donaldson, Scottish champion, four frames to two, in the Empire snooker tournament. The scores were 53-67, 21-102, 66-58, 60-53, 80-63, 92-41.

Is Going Ahead With Plans for Nanaimo Squad

SEATTLE, Feb. 15 (CP).—Confidence he "definitely will have a hockey team" for Nanaimo, B.C., in the Pacific Coast League next season, was expressed here today by Don Mills, of Seattle.

"I don't know where I'll get it," he added, "but I'll have it."

Mills' assertion following the announcement that the hockey league directors had voted to encourage Mills in his efforts to add a fourth team to the three-cornered league.

Mills said he was leaving tonight for Nanaimo, to discuss with the City Council there leasing of the Arena now under construction, for five years, with a five-year renewal option.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (CP).—New York Rangers regained sole possession of first place in the National Hockey League standings tonight, defeating Detroit Red Wings 3-1 to take a two-point lead over the idle Boston Bruins with whom they had been tied.

Dave Kerr, the league's leading goalie, had a shut-out until a minute and thirty-four seconds from the end when the Ranger defence, weakened by the absence of Muzz Patrick who had a charley horse, committed its only error. It let Cecil Dillon in to knock home a short shot from a goalmouth scramble.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Oldest Book in the World—The Samaritans, of the same race as the Good Samaritan mentioned in the Bible, are a small religious sect. Their history begins with the Assyrian conquest of Samaria in 1722 B.C. They reject the Bible except the Pentateuch and the Book of Joshua. The Scroll of the Pentateuch, shown in my illustration, is believed to have been written by Abishua, who was a great-grandson of Aaron. The text is in Phoenician, and its reputed age is 3,592 years.

"DEAD END KIDS" AT THE DOMINION

Join Forces With "Little Tough Guys" in Picture "Call a Messenger"

Discarding their torn shirts and tattered trousers to put on the brass-buttoned uniforms of messenger boys, two of the Dead End Kids join forces with the Little Tough Guys in the picture "Call a Messenger," which opens at the Dominion Theatre today.

Presenting members of the two popular juvenile star groups in a story which offers contrast to the grim roles in which they first won recognition, the picture blends laughter with whirlwind drama and suspense. Heading the supporting cast is Robert Armstrong, Mary Carlisle and Anne Nagel.

CADET THEATRE Starring in "The Mikado," which is showing at the Cadet Theatre, is Kenny Baker with Jean Colin, Martyn Green, Sydney Granville, John Barclay and the D'Oyly Carte Chorus. Orchestral accompaniment is supplied by the London Symphony Orchestra. The film was adapted, conducted and produced by Geoffrey Toye, and the entire production was under the baton of Director Victor Schertzinger.

ATLAS THEATRE Paulette Goddard, who is co-starred with Bob Hope in Paramount's thrilling mystery-comedy, "The Cat and the Canary," which is now showing at the Atlas Theatre, first won fame as "the perfect sister." The appellation was applied to her when, as a girl of fourteen, she was featured in a Ziegfeld Follies and used to sit in the moon while handsome young men sang songs to her.

OAK BAY THEATRE For a sequence in Warner Bros.' "The Dead End Kids on Dress Parade," now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, the Dead Enders and several score of extras had to sing "You're in the Army Now," but instead of singing it in the "regular time," they sang in "swingtime." An old army tradition thus fell victim to the trend of modern times.

Broadway Clowns Defeat Arrows in Exhibition Match

SOOKE COMMUNITY HALL, Feb. 15.—Broadway Clowns, colored touring hoopsters, defeated the Victoria Arrows, 27-21, here tonight, in an exhibition game. The score was 23-13 at half-time. One of the smartest and most colorful cage quintettes to ever show here, the Clowns staged a great show, and spent most of the time amusing the fans. In the final half they took two shots at the basket and scored each time, and then spent the rest of the evening putting on their "act." Boyd, Bryant and Jones, new members with the club, are great ball manipulators and master showmen, and, along with Pullins, Brime and Matthews, round out a great aggregation of hoopsters. Clowns play Victoria Dominoes at the Sports Centre, Victoria, tomorrow. Scores:

Broadway Clowns — Brime, Pullins (6), Boyd (12), Bryant (7), Matthews (2) and Jones; total, 27.

Arrows — McKeachie (4), Piercey (3), Dale (2), Walker (4), Hornsby (2), Goldsmith (6), Parfitt, Smart and Whyte; total, 21.

Al-cos Will Play Seattle Cagemen

Manager Tony Hope's Al-cos, smart intermediate cagemen, will leave this afternoon for Seattle, where they are billed to oppose the Washington Preps on Saturday evening in an international exhibition basketball fixture. The game was arranged by Joe Murray, well known to Victoria fans as referee and player.

With the splendid record of fourteen victories and five defeats, Al-cos are looking forward to their game with the Seattle hoopsters. Players making the trip are Mickey Smith, Bill Duncan, Wally Smith, Gordon Tucker, Joe Bryant and Gordon Humber. Bob Murray will have charge of the club for the trip.

FULHAM IN VICTORY

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP). — Fulham defeated Brentford, 5-2, in a postponed South "B" group soccer game played on the latter club's grounds today.

WILL GUIDE BALL TEAMS

McCarthy and McKechnie to Pilot Clubs in All-Star Game March 17

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP).—The 1939 world series will be fought all over again, as far as the managers are concerned, in the all-star game for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund between picked teams from National and American Leagues here, March 17.

Joe McCarthy, of the New York Yankees, and Bill McKechnie, of the Cincinnati Reds, have been chosen to pilot the two star-spangled outfits. They were offered the posts last night and they promptly accepted, McKechnie displaying a commendable fortitude in view of the lacing his Reds took from McCarthy's Yanks last October.

Bill possibly felt that nothing worse could happen to him than he already had absorbed. If his National Leaguers should catch it in the neck this time, he at least will be able to blame it on the sports writers, who will get together early in March and select the two squads.

McCarthy and McKechnie were agreed upon because March 17 will be St. Patrick's Day and because someone thought it would be a great idea to have a couple of Irishmen managing the two clubs. Later, it was learned that McKechnie is a complete Scotsman, and no Irishman at all, but the sponsors decided they would with stick with Bill, anyway.

The National Leaguers won't have to tackle quite so many Yankees this time as they faced in the world series and in last year's all-star game. As tentatively planned, no more than four players will be chosen from each team in the two leagues, and only one performer will be brought here from each of the five clubs training on the Pacific Coast.

General Advance In Prices Posted On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP). — Aided by continued strength in specialties, the stock market today managed to post a general advance for the first time in four straight sessions.

Gains, running to more than a point in virtually all departments in the forenoon, were cut down by profit-taking in the closing hours and a few buoyant low-priced issues slipped behind minus signs.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up .1 of a point at 50.3. While frequently lively intervals were interspersed with slow periods, transfers amounted to 753,715 shares, against 650,860 the day before.

Tendency of activity to develop when prices were rising was encouraging to bullish proponents. It also was noticed that some recently sluggish leaders managed to cling to modest plus signs, although many backed water after a show of morning recovery.

The heavy flow of cheerful earnings statements, which have mostly been ignored the past several days, began to have some effect on sentiment, brokers said, and aroused hopes the recent business recession would come to a halt at least by April. Substantial 1939 company gains also brought thoughts of additional generous dividends before the end of the current quarter.

New highs for 1939-40 were posted for such issues as Studebaker, Loft, Cluett Peabody, Mertin-Parry, and Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit preferred, although some of these fell behind at the finish.

Belgium 6's jumped up 1 1-4 to 94 1-4, but other dollar bonds were inclined lower today. Denmark 4 1-2's lost 3-4 at 41 1-4, only 1-4 away from the 1940 low.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 148.43, up 0.10.
Twenty rails, 30.91, off 0.09.
Fifteen utilities, 24.91, up 0.12.
Forty bonds, 89.37, up .03.
Total sales, 750,000 shares.

WINNIPEG WHEAT PRICES ARE FIRM

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15 (CP).—Wheat futures prices held steady today despite lack of buying power and a restricted export demand. Firmness of United States markets contributed support.

Quotations were unchanged at the close after trading 1-4 to 1-8 cent higher most of the session. May finished at 85 7-8 with July at 87 and October 88 1-8.

Chicago led advances in the southern markets, closing 7-8 to 3-8 cent higher. Buenos Aires gained 1-2 cent. Reported sales of from three to five cargoes of United States Pacific Coast wheat to Russia was the big factor in the southern buying wave.

Investment buying in oats and barley appeared in the coarse grains pit with prices steady and unchanged. Cash grain trade was routine.

Sheep Breeders of British Columbia Report Good Prospects for 1940

Gathering from many points in the Province, directors and members of the British Columbia Sheep Breeders' Association, and the western division of the Canadian Wool Growers' Association met at the members' room in the Legislative Buildings yesterday for day long conferences with Provincial departments and to transact other business. William Harrison, Pritchard, presided.

In the morning the sheep breeders held a meeting of their directors, and dealt with a number of resolutions dealing with various phases of the industry. The wool growers met in the afternoon, and later joined forces with the sheep breeders for a general discussion of their problems. J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, and other Provincial officials attended, making reports during the day.

NAMED DELEGATE

George C. Hay was named as a delegate to the Co-operative Wool Growers' Convention, to be held at Toronto on March 21. George Dalziel, Denman Island, J. S. Graham, Keremeos; Robert Heron, Kamloops; S. H. Baker, secretary of the British Columbia Sheep Breeders' Association, Kamloops, and Leonard Hoover, Kamloops, were among directors present at the meetings.

In his presidential report, Mr. Harrison showed that British Columbia growers in the association shipped 300,000 pounds of its total wool production of 354,000 pounds last year to the United Kingdom market. The average price received for all grades in the year was 17.2 cents a pound, or 7 cents higher than in the year previous.

The Dominion Wool Board has now taken over the entire production in Canada, at a fixed price of 45 cents per pound for clean scoured wool. This worked out at 22.5 cents per pound to the grower for raw wool straight from the back of the sheep, Mr. Harrison said.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

William Harrison was elected to his twentieth term as president of the association. Robert Heron, Kamloops, was named first vice-president, and J. S. Graham, Keremeos, was elected second vice-president. S. H. Baker, Kamloops, was returned as secretary.

A. Gardiner, Kamloops, was the new director chosen to serve with the present incumbents, George Dalziel, Denman Island; W. Newton, Kootenay; J. Yorston, Cariboo; L. Higginson, Sardis, and R. Davidson, North Okanagan.

Last night members of the association and Government officials gathered at the Dominion Hotel for dinner.

E. O. MacGinnis, secretary to the Minister of Agriculture, brought greetings from the Department of Agriculture and invited the members to write to the Government for a solution to their problems.

DESTROYING FLOCKS

Dr. W. R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner, spoke on the production of sheep, marketing problems, diseases, etc. He said that dogs and predatory animals were responsible for the greatest proportion of sheep losses. He thought this difficulty might be overcome by having small flocks brought together and placed in charge of a sheep herder who could take them to the proper ranges.

Faulty nutrition was the most frequent cause of disease, he stated, and emphasized the necessity of balancing phosphorous and calcium in the feed of sheep.

Cecil Tice, commissioner of field crops, voiced his pleasure at being present and offered the fullest co-operation of his department.

Several members of the executive and other members spoke briefly. Mr. Harrison was chairman.

NOT IN HER LINE

The buxom wife had returned from her shopping expedition in a towering temper, and was pouring out her troubles to her patient husband.

"That young assistant was intolerably rude to me," she declared.

"Was she, dear?"

"Yes, I asked for a coat which would make me look slim, and she said she had served her apprenticeship as a saleswoman, not as an illusionist!"

HE KNEW

"Now, don't be afraid. Just a prick with the needle and you will feel nothing."

"You tell that to the marines! I am a dentist myself."

CHAPTER LVII

"Nina and Bob just happened to run into Jennifer and this man with whom she has been traveling abroad," Milton continued. "Their testimony would be sufficient evidence for a divorce but I don't want my private affairs blasted all over the front page. It will be better for Jennifer to get it."

"Suppose she refuses?" Star asked, remembering Jennifer's threat.

"She won't have any choice about it. I've already cabled her that I'm coming to Paris—I wish I never had to see her again."

"Must you go?"

"It takes so long to write letters back and forth and it isn't the kind of thing we can discuss by cabling."

"I'm afraid of Mrs. Wood," Star admitted. "If she doesn't want a divorce, she may find some way to prevent it even yet."

"She can't," he said grimly. "I don't think she'll try. After all, she knows that Nina and Bob saw her. She probably thinks that's the reason I'm sailing."

It was still very complicated, Star decided, but so long as he loved her, so long as there was any hope at all she could be patient.

"We'd better go home," she suggested. "Mrs. Lambert will be worried about me as I told Mrs. Epperson I was just going for a walk."

Milton rose and took her hands. "You'll wait for me, darling? Give me a chance to straighten things out in a civilized way?"

"You know I will."

"I still can't believe that you are really in love with a man like me," he confessed. "You are so young and lovely. I am so much older and so disillusioned."

"You're hurt," she said gently. "But at heart you will always be an idealist. In some ways I am older even than you. You see I've never had anyone to believe in except myself. I haven't any illusions."

"I'll make it up to you, Star. We'll be happy together."

"We'll probably have plenty of adjustments to make," she reminded him, "but nothing can ever alter the fact that we love each other."

"Nothing," he answered.

He did not go in when they reached Nina's. Star ran upstairs, calling out, "Mrs. Lambert, where are you?"

Nina answered from the writing-room. She looked as if she had been crying.

"Well, where have you been?" she began, but Star did not give her time to say more. Putting her arms about Nina's neck, she cried, "You darling! How can I ever thank you?"

The writer said dryly, "Obviously you've seen Milton—but where?"

At his boat in the yacht harbor," the girl answered. "Oh, Mrs. Lambert, I am so happy! I think you are the most wonderful person in the world!"

"Sit down and tell me about it," Nina answered. "Here I thought I would have something to tell you and Milton doesn't even let me do that."

Star was too excited to be quiet. She paced the floor as she explained how she had gone to say farewell to the boat on which they had spent so many happy hours. Adding that it was in the yacht harbor where Milton discovered her after she had left Nina.

Nina sighed, "You didn't tell me that before. But yes, it would be like that."

Star imagined that Nina was blaming herself for the fact that Milton had fallen in love with her secretary but Star knew that it couldn't have happened otherwise. All her life had led up to this point.

It was late when the two women said good night and later still before Star slept, but she awakened early in the morning by Mrs. Epperson knocking at her door.

"Telephone for you, Miss Bright. It's Mr. Wood and he says it's important."

Star did not wait for a dressing gown. Thrusting her feet into the mules beneath her bed, she ran downstairs. What had happened now? Milton would never have awakened her without a good reason. She prayed frantically. "Oh, God, please don't let anything go wrong."

His voice was quietly excited but happy.

(To Be Continued)

CORRECTING ADVANCED CASES OF FLAT FEET

A story, and it is true, is that of a recruit who walked forty miles through the bush to enlist only to be rejected because of flat feet. And the feet really were flat, because when he knelt down it could be seen that the whole sole of his feet were black from walking on the armory floor—not a single patch of white skin at the arch of the foot. I examined a recruit whose feet were so flat that the arches rested on the ground and yet the day following the examination he won second place to Goulding, then world's champion walker, in a matched race.

Why were these men with such flat feet able to walk long distances without pain in the arches?

It was because the muscles and ligaments of the feet were flexible or pliable, just as with those of a ballet dancer.

It is when the feet become "rigidly" flat that pain is caused by walking or being on the feet. It is in these cases that plaster casts are made of the feet from which arch supports are made to fit the feet properly.

There are, however, cases of flat foot in which surgery is necessary to give relief from pain and give the patient "serviceable" feet.

There are cases where these rigid or static flat feet cause deformities of the legs, particularly a curve outwards just above the ankle with a turning outward of the toes, and a drawing upward of the outer muscles of the leg and the big tendon at the back of the leg which is attached to the heel bone.

Dr. A. Pavlik, Stuttgart, describes three different types of operation to correct these various deformities which have reached a stage where they cannot be corrected by exercise, arch supports, or other physical measures. He shows that "it is necessary to select that type of surgical method which on the one hand reconstructs the arch of the foot, and on the other hand, counteracts the curvature of the lower part of the leg, which is the cause of the collapse of the arch of the foot and the partial dislocation in the joints of the foot."

The thought then is that when properly fitted arch supports, exercises, and other methods fail to prevent rigid flat feet, orthopedic surgeons can, in many cases, obtain satisfactory results by operation.

Useable feet mean much to health, happiness, and business.

"LADY BOUNTIFUL"

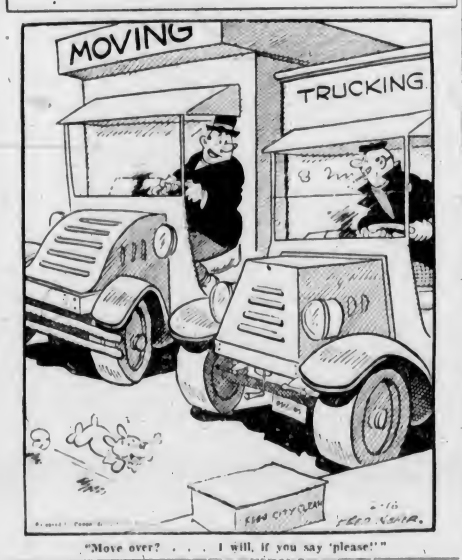

Common metaphor for fairy godmother or the more colloquial angel, Lady Bountiful, made its debut into the English language in 1707, as a secondary character in Beaux Stratagem, the last, and, by many considered the best play of the celebrated British playwright, George Farquhar.

said to have been written in six weeks shortly before the author's death, Beaux Stratagem, like the many other of Farquar's plays which in their day attained great prominence, is now unknown to all except such book lovers as seek out the old things.

Lady Bountiful, however, who impersonated a charitable woman in a village, has survived in popular consciousness, speech and writing and bids fair to be current for a long time to come.

WHY?

A four-year-old boy, on being asked by a lady what his name was, replied: "Bunny."

"Have you no other name?" asked the lady.

"No," came the answer.

"What is your father's name?"

"Daddy," answered the child.

"Has he no other name?" asked the lady.

"No," said the boy.

"Then what does your mother call him?" the lady said at last.

"Fathead," piped the youngster, triumphantly.

HIS RELIEF

"My wife used to play the piano a lot, but since the children came she simply hasn't time for it."

"I know. Children are a comfort, aren't they?"

HER WANDERING BOY

Mrs. Gayboy had friends to tea, among them a professor's wife, who prided herself on her correct use of English. "I wish I knew where George was," remarked the hostess, referring to her husband. The professor's wife drew herself up. "I presume, my dear," she said, primly, "that you mean you wish you knew where he is." "Oh, no, I don't," replied Mrs. Gayboy sweetly. "I know where he is. He's upstairs in bed with a black eye and a fearful headache. I want to know where he was."

He (during quarrel)—Now I know why women are called birds.

She—Oh, why is that?

He — Because you are always chirping.

She — That's on account of the worms we pick up.

COULDN'T WALK 10 FEET! MR. FRANCIS JAMES WAS RHEUMATIC PAIN VICTIM

"But Mosby's Tonic Relieved My Suffering!" He Says—Cleared Gas Bloat From Upset Stomach — Relieved Bowel Constipation—Now This 78-Year-Old Man Feels Fine and Takes Long Daily Walks.

MR. FRANCIS J. JAMES, of 4081 Victoria Drive, Vancouver, B.C., Who Says: "MOSBY'S TONIC Is Splendid! It Did More for Me Than All the Other Medicines I Took PUT TOGETHER. I Gladly Endorse It."

As time goes on, it becomes more and more apparent to the people of Victoria, that MOSBY'S TONIC is a medicine of True, Genuine MERIT. This "New, Scientific Formula of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents," is now being introduced to crowds daily here in Victoria by The MOSBY TONIC Man in person at The Cunningham Drug Store (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Streets. Leading Druggists throughout this entire Section are reporting a steady increasing demand for Mosby's Tonic. And at the same time, some of the city's best-known residents are coming forward daily with Grateful public Statements, describing what Mosby's Tonic did for them and endorsing it to others who suffer in the same way.

Among the widely-known Vancouver People who publicly praise MOSBY'S TONIC, none is more enthusiastic about this New Compound than Mr. Francis J. James, of 4081 Victoria Drive, Vancouver, B.C. Mr. James has lived in this Section 30 YEARS and is a Retired Gardener, 78 years of age. He has friends throughout Victoria and vicinity. We are, indeed, PROUD to publish this statement from such a well-known citizen. Mr. James' sincere testimonial about Mosby's Tonic reads as follows:

Couldn't Leave House Due to Rheumatic Pain

"I have spent a great deal of my life in the open air, and have been very active until about two years ago, at which time I began having rheumatic pains," said Mr. James. "This rheumatic condition kept getting worse until finally, in the past year, I became almost crippled with it. I was so bad with it at times that I couldn't walk ten feet, and wouldn't dare to leave the house. So you can see that I have had my share of suffering. Besides these distressing rheumatic pains, I also had trouble with indigestion and a sassy, bloated stomach. I couldn't eat without suffering gas pains, and my bowels were so sluggish and irregular that I had to take strong laxatives and physics regularly.

Mosby's Tonic Relieves Him; Now Feels Fine

"I tried practically everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good, and I surely was discouraged. But finally I found Mosby's Tonic, and want to say to everybody in this vicinity that this Splendid Medicine did more for me than everything else I tried COMBINED. In three weeks it simply cleansed me ALL OVER. It had a fine invigorating action on my sluggish organs, and just seemed to drive those rheumatic pains right out of me. And say, I can take long daily walks now, without flinching from those rheumatic pains like I did before if I attempted to walk even the short distance of ten feet. I can hardly believe all of this relief has come to me in such short time. It has made my bowels more regular than they have been in years, and no more of that gas bloating distress after I eat. This medicine is certainly splendid, and no mistake about it, and I hope my statement will cause many other people who suffer as I did to get Mosby's Tonic and take it."

Acts Many Ways on Your System at One Time

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 ingredients. So it acts in many ways on your system at one and the same time. It brings forth gas and bloat from stomach, acts on the bowels, stimulates the flow of liver bile, and makes sluggish kidneys more active, and helps relieve rheumatic and neuritic pain, when, due to contaminated system from the sluggish action of these organs. In short, due to its many ingredients, Mosby's Tonic acts as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic, all at the same time. Weak, worn-out people write us daily they get such a cleansing and invigorating from this medicine that they soon feel like different men and women. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, the Price of Mosby's Tonic is Reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic TODAY—and start taking it!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Sts., Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound. (Advt.)

JAPAN CALLS FOR WAR END

Claims She Has Won Sufficient Area to Create New Order

HONGKONG, Feb. 15 (AP). — The Japanese Army last night issued a proclamation that it now had won "sufficient areas in China for establishment of the New Order in East Asia," and urging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to surrender.

Further Chinese resistance is "useless," said the proclamation, issued by Japan's South China command, and addressed to General Chiang and his Government.

The recent Japanese campaign in Kwangsi province in the South has brought the new situation about, the proclamation stated.

"Supply routes to Chungking (the Chinese capital) have been cut and rapid progress is being made in formation of a new central government in China under Wang Ching-Wei," the proclamation said. "Therefore in the future we will not expand our operations, but will await your offensive. In case you adopt this latter plan, we will resort to necessary tactics and add more pages to the war annals of the world."

Wang Ching-Wei, former Chinese Premier, is establishing a new central government in co-operation with Tokio, and in opposition to the Chungking regime.

CONTINUE TO FIGHT

General Chiang's Government gave evidence of its determination to continue the fight by adopting plans to float munitions and reconstruction loans.

Reports reached the French Embassy in Chungking that a new Japanese bombing raid on the French-operated Hanoi-Kunming Railway in Yunnan Province yesterday did little damage. Japanese sources here, however, said bridges and track on the line—a vital supply route for the Chinese—were badly damaged.

Twenty-seven planes took part in the raid. The Chinese said one Japanese bomber was shot down and others damaged. The Japanese reported downing one Chinese plane.

In messages to Chiang and other Chinese generals, the Japanese asserted 50,000 Chinese had been killed, 200,000 wounded and 50,000 had deserted or had been captured.

The Japanese operations in the South, the messages said, "though not necessarily on a vast scale, are unprecedented in brilliance, resembling closely the battle of Tannenberg." (This was one of the great battles of the first Great War, in which the Germans annihilated two Russian army corps and reduced three others by half).

The Chinese leaders were urged to note that "in proportion to the earnestness and vigor of your counter-attacks, the results gained by our forces increase."

CHINESE WARNED

Should the Chinese attempt a reported Spring offensive, they were warned that "Japanese troops will employ the best tactics and add another brilliant chapter to the annals of world warfare."

Since the Japanese invaded the southern province late in November, reports from both sides have indicated large-scale operations, but have conflicted on results.

Chinese dispatches today reported that 3,000 Japanese soldiers had been killed in the province since Monday, and that Chinese airmen had repelled a raid of twenty-seven Japanese planes on the Hanoi-Kunming Railway.

One Japanese bomber was reported shot down and others damaged.

The railway, operated by the French, runs from Indo-China to Central China and is one of the lifelines of the Chungking Government.

In the North, Chinese forces reported they were pouring into Suiyuan Province regions from which Japanese were withdrawing. The Chinese claimed a victory in their reoccupation, but neutral observers doubted that the Japanese ever intended to hold the territory indefinitely.

(The Japanese said they withdrew after dispersing Chinese troop concentrations and would reoccupy the areas whenever necessary.)

OPEN VERDICT IS DELIVERED

Coroner's Jury Probes Death Of T. Halladay From Wound on Head

A verdict of death from a head wound inflicted through a cause or causes unknown was returned by a coroner's jury under Dr. E. C. Hart yesterday morning after investigating circumstances surrounding the finding of the body of T. Halladay on Burnside Road Sunday night.

Members of the jury were Ralph B. Matthews (foreman), Lawrence Henricksen, Edmund B. Williams, David L. Meharey, John L. Lang and John G. Menzies.

Charles Varcoe described finding Mr. Halladay's remains across the boulevard on Burnside Road, west of Jutland Road, at 9:15 o'clock Sunday night. He noticed blood spots on the street but no sign of marks such as might have been left by an automobile.

David Davidson told of trying artificial respiration on the body.

CAUSE OF DEATH

Dr. G. A. McCurdy, who performed a post mortem examination, stated that death had been caused by heart failure and a wound on top of the deceased's head. He thought the wound had been inflicted by a blunt instrument, and not a fall. He found no injuries that led him to believe Mr. Hallad.y had been struck by a car.

Constable Wally Andrews described taking the body to the Jubilee Hospital, in company with Constable Thomas Banister. Henry Ticquet stated he had last seen Mr. Halladay alive at 101 Burnside Road about 6:30 o'clock Sunday night. Elmer Halladay, Vancouver, a brother of the deceased, gave his age at close to eighty years.

SOUTH AFRICA HAS BIG FORCE

Union Boasts Largest Defence Organization in Its History

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 15 (CP). — South Africa has the most powerful home-defence force in her history, and the army is destined to grow greater still.

Thousands of recruits have enlisted, thousands of reservists called up and many new units formed.

Airliners have been converted into bombers and constantly patrol the coasts.

Simon's Town, important naval base near the Cape, has been host to ships never before seen in these waters.

People are unable to visit the quays as they once did, because the harbors are under military rule. All lighthouses have been "blacked out."

What Today Means

"AQUARIUS"

If February 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

Avoid uncomplimentary comments on this day, for few people will accept them without protest. The average person will be rather seriously minded, so jokers are apt to find it easy to discover what sort of a humor a person is in more by his facial expression than by his voice or words. Do not gamble against time, especially if it involves your taking any kind of a physical risk, as trying to cross a street in the midst of heavy traffic. Music may be a soothing or disturbing medium, so if you find it getting on your nerves you should not hesitate to say so, especially if it is "swing" or "jazz." Married and engaged couples, and those with a serious sentimental attachment will have to be considerate, encouraging, and cheerful if they wish to keep from getting on each other's nerves today.

If you are a woman and February 16 is your birthday, you should have a pleasing voice, a magnetic personality, and constructive ideas that may help you have a successful social, artistic or commercial career. You are probably very ambitious, and your enthusiasm on any subject is likely to be infectious. Many people may have a high regard for your opinion, so your advice will perhaps be often sought. With you, "Variety is the spice of life," particularly when it comes to a change in environment, and meeting new faces. As an artist, interior decorator, designer, caterer, milliner, modiste, musician, instructress, personal director, author, or actress your star may be rising. According to every indication you should prove to be a good, wise and happy wife.

The child born on February 16 generally inherits both of its parents' good traits, but very rarely any of their bad ones. Very few of its playmates are apt to try to impose on this youngster, for his physical courage and ability to take care of himself are likely to command their wholesome respect.

If you are a man and February 16 is your natal day, you are probably an indefatigable worker, with a seemingly inexhaustible supply of stored-up energy. Your big opportunity to win fame and a fortune may come through your taking up engineering, building, contracting, farming, horticulture, politics, writing, publishing, aeronautics, selling, manufacturing, the selling of food, or work of a decidedly artistic nature.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Rev. T. S. Glassford Lived in Alberni For Thirty-Seven Years—Was Pioneer Missionary

PORT ALBERNI, Feb. 15.—The funeral of Rev. Thomas Stuart Glassford, who died at his home in Alberni on Wednesday morning, will be held on Saturday afternoon. Known as the "grand old man" of the Alberni district, he celebrated his ninety-first birthday last December and up until his death took an active part in church and community affairs. In December he gave the Benediction at the dedication of the new United Church in Alberni.

He was born in Beavertown, Ontario, in 1849, and as a young man taught school in order to raise sufficient funds to put himself through the university. He was a graduate of Queens and was the last surviving member of his class. In 1890 he read an advertisement in The Canada Presbyterian asking for application for the post as a missionary in British Columbia and he was the only applicant. He came to this province in 1890 and for a time did church work on the Lower Mainland. In 1900 he was offered and accepted the ministry of the church at Cumberland, but in 1903 he came to Alberni, where he was minister of the Presbyterian Church. Except for a short time on the Prairies, he has resided continually in Alberni.

He is survived by four nieces, Miss Helen Arbuthnot, of Alberni, with whom he made his home; Mrs. A. J. Belmont, of Cumberland; Mrs. M. J. Walker and Mrs. A. L. Grath, of Yahk.
